CLUBS OF ATLANTA ARE OBEYING LAW, ASSERT OFFICIALS

Statements Are Given Out by Leading Clubmen Following Notice Served on Monday by Police Chief.

WILL MAKE NO CHANGES IN METHODS OF SERVICE

Near Beer Ordinance Has Been Enforced All Along, Says Beavers—Mayson Construes Locker Law.

Officials of Atlanta's leading social clubs last night declared that these institutions are being conducted lawfully and that there will be no necessity for any change in service following Chief Beavers' order issued yesterday morning that all clubs must strictly enforce the law after May 1.

In his letter to the club heads the chief calls attention to the construction of the city ordinance governing locker clubs and the state locker club law by City Attorney James L. Mayson.

Near Beer Law Enforced.

When asked last night if he intended inaugurating a crusade against the near beer saloons of Atlanta, Chief Beavers would have nothing to say. He intimated, though, that if any of his officers reported to him that the near beer saloons were selling anything but near beer he would have cases made against the proprietors of the saloons.

"There have been many such cases made by the police and tried in recorder's court," said Chief Beavers. "The near beer ordinance has been enforced all along."

Obeying Law—Gentry.

W. T. Gentry, president of the Capital City club, when interviewed by a reporter for The Constitution in regard to Chief Beavers' order to the locker clubs that they must comply strictly with the law after May 1, said:

"Chief Beavers did not call on me today and deliver a copy of his order to the locker clubs. I understand from the reporter, though, that the chief stands the clubs must obey the city ordinance governing locker clubs and the state locker club law.

"I wish to say for the Capital City club that it has always been a law-abiding club, that it is now a law-abiding club and will always remain a law-abiding club.

"The Capital City club is complying strictly with the letter of the law and there will be no change in the modes of dispensing intoxicants to members by the club. Capital City clubs, as this club is not violating any laws, either of city or state."

Operating Under Law.

Asa G. Candler, Jr., president of the Atlanta Athletic club, said:

"So far as we know the Atlanta Athletic club is at present operating under the law. Beyond that I have nothing to say regarding Chief Beavers' order. It was unexpected.

James H. Sundahl, president of the Piedmont Driving club, said:

"The Driving club has always tried to adhere strictly to the provisions of the locker club law, and always will.

"The Driving club now operates under a scheme which was arranged by a number of prominent lawyers and is so that the Driving club is well within the law. Every year the Driving club tries to observe the law.

"There will be a meeting of the board of directors of the Driving club tonight and I will bring Chief Beavers' communication to their attention. I cannot say what action the board will take in reference to the chief's letter.

Not Operated for Profit.

"Recently I see on the front page, when it was investigating the locker clubs, I observed that most people are under the impression that locker clubs are operated for profit. This is untrue. If it was not for $25,000 in membership dues, which the Driving club receives yearly, it could not exist. Every legitimate locker club is dependent upon its dues for defraying expenses more than on any profits from their buffets.

Obeying Law—Everett.

J. B. Everett, of the Theatrical club, said:

"One month ago when Chief Beavers began his investigation of locker clubs in Atlanta, I was the first man Chief Beavers saw. He asked me to show him through the Theatrical club, which I did, explaining to him the system through which members received their drinks. I pointed out to Chief Beavers the several hundreds of members' lockers, which contained their individual whisky.

"At the end of the inspection Chief Beavers declared himself highly satisfied with the way in which the Theatrical club was operated, and said that he was satisfied this club was keeping well within the law.

"I was somewhat surprised, after his statements to me, when I received his notice this morning, saying that all locker clubs would have to observe the strict letter of the law.

Strict Letter of Law.

When asked if the chief insisted that the strict letter of the law be observed in operating the Theatrical club, Mr. Everett replied:

"I believe that we are complying with the law. Chief Beavers has put it up to the city attorney to construe how we clubs shall operate, and all lawyers differ in their constructions of laws. What we shall do depends on Mr. Mayson's construction of the city ordinance."

John McMillan, of the T. M. A. club, said:

"I will call the attention of the executive officers of the T. M. A. association to Chief Beavers' order. What they will do, of course, I cannot say. I will say, though, that this club will continue in operation despite Chief Beavers' beliefs. We are observing the law, and many attorneys have said, and the T. M. A. will remain as it is."

Keeping Letter of Law.

J. R. Flournoy, manager of the Beavers' club, said last night:

"The Beavers' club is carrying out the letter of the locker club law. The members have individual lockers, in which they keep their supplies of whisky. No whisky is served from another member's locker to any member.

Where French Are Hammering German Wedge

Map Showing German Wedge Assailed by French. French Battery in Action.

In an effort to dislodge the Germans from St. Mihiel, at which point is the apex of the narrow wedge which marks the southernmost advance of the invaders, the French troops are conducting a sustained and somewhat formidable offensive between the Meuse and the Moselle. Greatest pressure is being exerted by the troops of General Joffre on the line running from St. Mihiel to Pont-a-Mousson. At Ailly, Apremont, Flirey and west of the forest of Le Prerre the attacks of the French were violent, according to the testimony of the German war office. Berlin admits the importance of this move. How the Germans have been able to hold the St. Mihiel wedge, with an occasional offensive, is no longer a military secret. In the autumn of 1912 a German company rented a large plot of ground close to St. Mihiel for the manufacture of a chemical product. It was a big company and had need of big buildings with solid foundations and deep concreted cellars. In July, 1914, the company stopped operations and closed the plant. When, on September 20, the Army of Metz arrived upon the scene it destroyed the buildings, but found in the concreted cellars perfect emplacements for heavy guns. For nearly two years the plant had been a fort in all but the armament. After September 20 it had that, and the 42-centimeter howitzers so emplaced made short work of the French forts at Troyen and the Roman camp, which were armed only with 12-centimeter guns.

FIVE GOVERNORS NAME DIRECTORS

Dixie Highway Commission Practically Complete — A Meeting Will Be Held in the Near Future.

With practically all of the directors for the states through which the Dixie highway will pass having been appointed by their respective governors it is expected that a meeting will be called in the near future for the purpose of selecting the route which the Dixie highway will take through the various disputed sections and that the permanent organization for the road will be effected. The only states out of the seven through which it is suggested the highway shall pass whose representatives have not yet been announced are Illinois and Florida.

DAVIS LOSES LIFE IN TRYING TO PAY ELECTION WAGER

Wrong Riley Got Pardon; Riley for Whom Intended Remains in the Penitentiary

Ottawa, April 12.—Through a clerical error the penitentiary at Kingston, Ont., released from custody Thomas M. Riley, serving a term for manslaughter, on a pardon intended for Thomas Riley, also serving time for manslaughter, it was announced here tonight. The mistake was discovered when a clergyman at London, Ont., received a letter from the freed Riley, now living in Evansville, Mo., thanking him for his efforts to obtain the pardon.

It was said the government intends to release Thomas Riley, and at the same time make an effort to extradite Thomas M. Riley and compel him to serve out his term.

Former Mexican Dictator Passed as Transient Alien by the New York Immigration Officials.

New York, April 12.—General Victoriano Huerta, provisional president of Mexico, who for nearly a year has been an exile in Spain, arrived here today on the Spanish steamship Lopez from Cadiz. General Huerta was passed by immigration officials as a transient alien, after he had sworn he would do nothing that would in any way involve the neutrality of the United States.

The former president said that he had come to the United States partly for pleasure and partly to attend to

M'ADOO CHARGED WITH CONSPIRING TO DESTROY BANK

Comptroller Williams Is Also Accused in Proceedings Begun by the Riggs National of Washington.

ALLEGED THAT M'ADOO CURSED MILTON AILES

And Threatened, by Implication, to Bring About Ruination of Bank—Court Asked to Enjoin McAdoo and Williams.

Washington, April 12.—Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo and Comptroller of the Currency Williams were made defendants today in proceedings begun in the district of Columbia supreme court by the Riggs National bank of Washington, D. C., which alleges that these officials have combined, and conspired to wreck the bank.

Temporary and permanent injunctions to halt the alleged conspiracy and to prevent the comptroller from making what the bank charges are unlawful demands for special reports of various kinds are sought from the court.

One portion of the prayer seeks to restrain John Burke, treasurer of the United States, from payment into the treasury of $5,000 declared to be due the bank as interest on $1,000,000 of United States bonds deposited with the comptroller against its note circulation. This interest was withheld to cover penalties of $100 a day for the bank's failure to make certain reports. Once paid into the treasury, only an act of congress could get the $5,000 out, and Justice McCoy today granted a temporary injunction on this phase of the case.

The justice set April 16 as the day for answer by the defendants to show cause why permanent injunctions should not issue.

Allegations by the Bank.

The bank's bill of complaint contains thirty-seven specific allegations designed to show that the comptroller has adopted unusual and legally questionable tactics in dealing with the institution. It is then charged that the unfriendly desire for information concerning the bank was shown by Mr. Williams shortly after he assumed the office of comptroller more than a year ago, and has continued ever since.

Prior to that time, in December, 1913, it says, Mr. McAdoo charged officers of the bank with responsibility for unfriendly criticism of the official conduct of the defendant Williams as assistant secretary of the treasury. When this charge was denied, the bill asserts, Secretary McAdoo cursed Milton E. Ailes, a vice president of the bank, and said to C. C. Glover, its president:

"Mr. Glover, you know what this means to the Riggs National bank."

The bill then literally adds: "that from that time on the power of the treasury department would be aggressively used for the ruination and destruction of the plaintiff bank in order to satisfy the personal malice and ill will of said defendants, Williams and McAdoo, and shortly afterwards the said defendants, Williams and McAdoo, began a series of overt acts against the plaintiff bank for the purpose of imposing or destroying its business, and of thereby ruining their high public office and violating their oath in order to vent their personal vindictiveness against the officers of the plaintiff bank."

Proposed to Exclude Riggs.

A few months later, the plaintiff bank was notified by C. S. Hamlin, now governor of the Federal reserve board, but then assistant secretary of the treasurer in charge of the fiscal bureau, that the Riggs bank would be excluded from the Riggs from a share of deposits to cover the District of Columbia tax withdrawals which deposits, by custom, are divided among the national banks of the District.

Mr. McAdoo later wrote to Mr. Glover, the complaint states, declining to explain why such action should be taken, and adding at the same time his intention to withdraw all government funds from that bank. Subsequently, it is alleged, government deposits amounting to more than $1,200,000 were withdrawn from the bank, including Panama canal deposits amounting at one time to $1,844,179.

These withdrawals were brought about by Secretary McAdoo, it is charged, at a time when the European war and the business depression in the United States had made banks husband their resources and "in a deliberate attempt to wreck the plaintiff bank in the execution of the conspiracy existing between him and the defendant Williams as hereinbefore set forth."

Further complaint is made that Mr. Williams, as treasurer of the Red Cross society, had the funds it kept on deposit with the Riggs bank removed to other institutions.

For almost a year, the bill avers, the comptroller has bombarded the Riggs National with demands for special reports of many sorts exceeding the inquisitorial and visitatorial powers vested in him.

Penalties May Be $150,000.

The bank declares that it has made an effort to comply with these demands, has worked its clerks early and late to do so, but that requests for time have been refused, and in some instances with a reminder that failure to make reports asked by a comptroller involve a penalty of $100 for each day after a report is demanded and not rendered. Exact figures as to penalties the comptroller may hold the bank has incurred in this connection, the bill states, is not clear, but it estimates that it must be at least $150,000.

In making some of these demands the bank alleges that Mr. Williams has violated the fourth and fifth amendments to the constitution, prohibiting unreasonable searches and seizures, and forcing any one to be a witness against himself.

In February last, according to the bill, Mr. Williams wrote to the bank asking if its officers had destroyed any of its records. On March 20, it further sets forth, he demanded a complete history of loans of the Riggs bank to its present officers, and gave

Russian Hosts Advancing Down Carpathian Slopes Toward Hungarian Plains

After Battling for Eighty Days, Armies of the Czar Have Won—Battle One of the Fiercest of the War.

ANOTHER DRIVE PLANNED AT THE GERMAN WEDGE ON THE WESTERN FRONT

First Phase of the Battle of the Woevre Has Ended With French Gains, and Interest Centers on Next Move of General Joffre.

London, April 12.—With the capture of the Russians of almost all the main chain of mountains, the battle of the Carpathians, which has lasted upwards of eighty days, is apparently reaching a termination over one extensive front, and the Russians are said to be pressing at various points by railways and roads along the rivers and streams down the southern slopes toward the plains of Hungary.

This movement, if it continues successfully, will, in the view of the Russian military authorities, compel the retirement, with little or no fighting, of the Austrians and Germans still north of the Carpathians, to the east of Lemberg, and in eastern Galicia and Bukowina.

The battle which has been thus successfully conducted by the Russians was, from all accounts, one of the fiercest of the war, and the manner in which the Russians overcame the difficulties of mountain fighting in midwinter has been the subject of praise by those acquainted with the country traversed.

NEXT MOVE OF GENERAL JOFFRE.

The first phase of the battle of the Woevre also apparently has come to the end, and interest centers on the next move of General Joffre in his effort to compel the Germans to relocate their hold on St. Mihiel and that part of the line south of the Woevre included in their wedge. British military critics place great importance on the advance from Regnieville toward Thiaucourt, in the south, as the latter town is a railway center from which the forces at St. Mihiel draw their supplies.

This battle has not as yet passed the prelude to a general offensive in the west, as was expected. This is probably due to the fact that, instead of moving troops from other points along the line to assist the push on the Woevre the Germans have brought their reinforcements from the interior of Belgium, perhaps some from the eastern front, and consequently the situation remains comparatively quiet on the west front.

SUBMARINES ACTIVE AGAIN.

German submarines again are active and, besides the Harpalion, which, according to one member of her crew and the officers of another steamer, was torpedoed, they have gathered since Saturday night the British liner Wayfarer, the French steamer Frederic Franck and the little steamer Trident. The Wayfarer reached Queenstown in a sinking condition, the Frederic Franck was towed into Plymouth and the President was still afloat when her crew of ten left her.

The mystery of the North sea fringe heard Wednesday night last remains unsolved so far as the general public is concerned.

RUSSIANS PUSH INTO HUNGARY.

Lemberg, Galicia, April 12.—(Via Petrograd and London.)—The Russians, according to dispatches, information reaching Lemberg, have made successful advances along the wide front from Bartfeld to Uzsok, the greatest gain was in the direction of Gumnenc, where the Russians forced the Austrians back with heavy losses to the line between Mezolaborcz and

DANIEL BROS. TAKES LEAD ON CLOSING PLAN

L. J. Daniel, president of the Daniel Bros. company, retail clothiers, announced last night to The Constitution that he would close his store Wednesday afternoon and send his employees to the opening baseball game between the Crackers and the Pelicans Wednesday.

"We're going to be there in a body," said Mr. Daniel, "and we will be there ready to make plenty of noise, lending our presence to helping Atlanta to the attendance limit, and our lungs to rooting the Crackers to victory."

Daniel Bros. company has taken the lead in this closing day idea and should again lead to where there is something to boost Atlanta they are always in the front ranks. The entire working force, nearly fifty employees, are going to the game in automobiles, with their bells, horns and other instruments of torture.

This step on the part of Mr. Daniel should prove a suggestion to the other merchants of the city. "An afternoon in the fresh air does a man good," said Mr. Daniel, "and I believe my men work better next day after such an outing."

Atlanta is going baseball mad. With her supremacy threatened in the manner that it is, the merchants, fans, automobile men, booster organizations and the press are lining up behind the local club in its efforts to win the attention, perhaps again, of baseball's season.

Atlanta won this trophy in 1912. Birmingham won it in 1914. The fight for the trophy will be between these two cities again this season, with New Orleans, by reason of dedicating a new ball park, a dark horse in the race.

The definite start of Atlanta to the Birmingham baseball club has been accepted by the local club, and backed by the local fans, they are going to make Birmingham believe once and for all times that Atlanta has the better baseball town.

Every one is keyed up, and every one that can get off for the afternoon is going to be at the game rooting for the Crackers to win.

As a constant reminder, the baseball club has stretched cloth banners across Peachtree and Whitehall streets announcing the game Wednesday. "Be a booster," appended thereto. Today the street cars will carry the same signs, every car in the street car company's being decorated.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE SENDS OUT POSTALS.

The chamber of commerce got actively behind the movement Tuesday when they mailed to every one of their 1,500 members a postal card urging them, if they could not close for the day, to permit their employees or as many as consistent with the running of their business to attend.

Mayor Woodward will issue a proclamation today closing the city hall for a half day and asking the business men of the city to follow his lead in the matter.

The Georgia Railway and Power company, the Western Union Telegraph company, the Postal Telegraph company, the Southern Bell Telephone company, the General Electric company, the American Can company, Daniel Bros. company will all close their offices Wednesday afternoon and go to the game in a body.

Last night the Underwood Typewriter company announced that they would send fifteen fuzzy tongued rooters out to the game, and the Crystal billiard and bowling parlors have also come through with a similar statement.

Atlanta is wide awake to the danger that is threatening her, and every one is going to line up behind the movement today. They are lining up fast.

If you are going to close your place of business Wednesday or permit a good portion of your employees to go to the game, telephone the sporting editor of The Constitution and let him add your name to the above list.

AD MEN'S AUTO PARADE HEADED BY DRUM CORPS.

There will be a monster automobile parade an hour before the game, which will parade the principal business streets of the city before wending its way to the ball park.

The Eagle drum corps, fifty strong, have tendered their services to the baseball club and they will be on two motor trucks in advance of the parade.

St. Elmo Massengale, who has charge of the arrangements for the parade, has appointed that matter, Julian Boehm, chairman of the entertainment committee of the Ad Men, to look after details, and Mr. Boehm is now working twenty-four hours a day lining up car

Circulation That Counts!

Here are the official figures of the TOTAL PAID ADVERTISING carried by the three Sunday Atlanta newspapers for the first quarter of 1915—January, February and March:

The Constitution	31,704 inches
The Journal	29,662 inches
The American	23,523 inches

The circulation of the Sunday Constitution of day before yesterday was 48,350—going into more representative households and appealing more directly to those who patronize the advertising columns of the Atlanta newspapers than any other newspaper medium published.

You cannot fool the Atlanta advertiser. He knows where to obtain the best results, and that is why The Sunday Constitution has for years led in Sunday advertising.

The figures speak for themselves. Ask any regular advertiser in the city of Atlanta and he will tell you that for results no other Sunday newspaper compares with The Constitution!

The Constitution makes no effort to obtain circulation that does not count for advertisers by offering a Sunday paper distributed hundreds of miles away before its columns are even available for local advertisers!

We offer a home circulation reaching the people who patronize those who advertise in The Constitution and PRODUCING RESULTS NOT EVEN APPROXIMATED IN ANY OTHER ATLANTA NEWSPAPER.

And that is why the advertiser who is not in The Constitution is out of the running! And why The Constitution leads all others in Sunday advertising!

C. F. von HERRMANN, Section Director.

Smolnik. The Russians also advanced along the line between Dukla and Svednik, where the Austrians, unable to make a serious defense, abandoned their stores and transport in their retreat.

The most determined opposition on this whole line of battle was on the part of the Hungarians, whose fighting qualities are being highly complimented by Russian officers.

Petrograd, April 12.—(Via London.)—There still are no indications that the Germans have sent further reinforcements to the Carpathians, although the German forces near the East Prussian frontier appear to be weakening. Russian staff officers therefore believe German troops from the north are being removed to some other part of the front.

No signs are evident of renewed activity on either side of the Vistula, so the conclusion is drawn that the Germans will begin a new offensive from some other quarter, probably from the direction of Cracow.

Thus far the only German aid extended to the Austrians in the Carpathians appears to be that given by Bavarian frontier guards who were removed to the Austrian front.

Meanwhile the Russians are pushing ahead slowly through all the principal passes of the Carpathians except along the Stry-Munkacs line, where the Austrians are heavily entrenched.

The following official general headquarters' story was issued tonight:

"To the west of the Middle Niemen there were isolated engagements yesterday. Near Ossowetz and in the region of Edvabno and between the Pissa and Omulieff rivers there were artillery duels. An attack by the Germans against the village of Szafranki failed.

"In the Carpathians in the direction of Rostoki on April 10 we repulsed large forces of the enemy which were repeatedly attacking us. We made some progress, and in so doing developed a violent battle in the region of Uzok pass, which the enemy still holds. We captured here three guns and about 700 prisoners.

"In the direction of the Stry river we repulsed attacks on the Rosochacz-Oravozil-Kozlouwka-Rozanka front, inflicting enormous losses on the enemy. The enemy has held Height 992 since April 9, but Kozlouwka and the adjoining positions remain in our hands.

"In the other sectors there has been no essential change."

GROUND GAINED HELD BY FRENCH.

Paris, April 12.—(Via London.)—The following official communication was issued tonight:

At Les Eparges during the night of April 11-12, after a somewhat severe cannonade and rifle fire, the Germans at 4:30 o'clock this morning delivered a counter attack, but were repulsed.

"In the wood of Ailly and in the region of Flirey there were violent artillery actions, but no infantry engagements.

"In the forest of Le Pretre at about 8 o'clock yesterday evening an attempted attack by the enemy on the northwestern part of the quarter reserve was easily repulsed.

"In Courie today we drove the Germans from a section of a trench line which they had previously captured and in which they had succeeded in holding their ground.

"During the night of April 11-12, about 1:30 o'clock in the morning, a German dirigible dropped seven bombs on Nancy. One of these fell near the civilian hospital and another near a school. Two fires caused by the bombs were promptly extinguished."

The communication issued in the afternoon follows:

"There is little to add this afternoon to the communication given out last night. During April 11 engagements continued the whole day in Belgium in the region of Albert, also in France, between the Oise and the Aisne, and in the Champagne district.

"In view of the fact that no engagements took place between the Meuse and the Moselle after our success of April 8, we have devoted ourselves to reorganizing the positions won during the course of that fighting.

"On the western fringe of the forest of La Pretre we repulsed two violent German counter attacks which failed completely under the fire of our infantry and artillery.

"We took five machine guns and a bomb-thrower, April 10, in the forests of Ailly and Le Pretre."

ATTACKS REPULSED, GERMANS CLAIM.

Berlin, April 12.—(Via London.)—The German army headquarters today gave out the following statement:

"In the western theater:

"Minor French attacks in the Argonne failed.

"Between the Meuse and the Moselle Sunday was comparatively quiet. In the evening hours the French commenced an attack on Combres hills, but after two hours of fighting the attack was repulsed.

"In the forest of Ailly and in the Bois le Pretre fighting took place at close quarters during the day, in which we retained the upper hand. A renewed attack during the night was repulsed by us.

"By way of retaliation for the bombardment by French aviators on April 5 of the open town of Thielen, which town is situated outside the zone of operations, resulting in the killing of three women, the town of Nancy was liberally bombarded by us with explosive and incendiary bombs.

"According to statements made by French officers the cathedral of Notre Dame in Paris and Troyes and prominent government buildings, such as the national library, the museum, the Louvre, the Hotel des Invalides, etc., have been provided with military equipment, including searchlights, wireless telegraphy stations and machine guns.

"In the eastern theater:

"On the occasion of our advance from Mariampol in an easterly direction we took from the Russians nine officers, 1,350 men and four machine guns.

"Northwest of Lomza the Russians threw bombs by means of a bomb-throwing machine. These bombs do not explode but, bursting slowly, develop asphyxiating gases.

"The report of a Russian non-commissioned officer being mutilated in the presence of German officers must be regarded as a clumsy and senseless lie."

RUSSIANS REPULSED, AUSTRIANS REPORT.

Vienna, April 12.—(Via London.)—An official statement on the war situation given out in Vienna today reads:

"The general situation is without change. In Russian Poland and in western Galicia there have been artillery engagements. In the Carpathians, especially in the district east of the Uzok pass, several Russian attacks have been repulsed with heavy losses to the enemy. We took 430 prisoners. In southeast Galicia and in Bukowina there have been several artillery engagements."

German Airships Driven From British Steamer By Bullets From Rifle

London, April 12.—"Armed with a rifle, Captain Sharp, of the British steamer Senula, which has arrived here, repulsed an attack on his steamer made by a large German hydroplane and a small aeroplane, off the Noordhinder lightship," says Reuter's Amsterdam correspondent.

"The aeroplane first approached the ship, dropping bombs which fell into the sea. As it returned to the attack Captain Sharp fired upon it with a rifle, hitting the machine several times and damaging a wing. Then the hydroplane took up the attack, but it also was driven off.

"Captain Sharp says he is convinced the aeroplane was so badly damaged that it was unable to reach Zeebrugge."

STEAMER MINNESOTA WRECKED OFF JAPAN

Kobe, Japan, April 12.—The American steamer Minnesota, plying between Japanese ports and Seattle, struck a rock at 9:30 o'clock last night off Iwajima, near the eastern entrance to the inland sea. In a wireless message Captain Garlick has asked for a salvage steamer. He says all the passengers and crew are safe.

A Japanese newspaper dispatch from Manila says that Mrs. Francis B. Harrison, wife of the governor general of the Philippines, with two children, was on the Minnesota.

One report received here said the Blue Funnel line steamer Canfa from Seattle rescued the Minnesota passengers. This report indicates that the Minnesota mistook her course during a storm. The point where she went ashore is the most dangerous in the inland sea.

The impact ripped a hole 120 feet long in the forward part of the steamer. The captain at once ordered the closing of the water-tight compartments, and sent out a wireless call. The Japanese cruiser Yakumo heard the call and speeded to the rescue. She found the entire crew of the Minnesota working desperately at the pumps.

A newspaper dispatch published here says the liner has 175 first-class passengers, mostly Americans, on the Minnesota, together with 22 second-class and 14 third-class passengers. The crew numbered 222.

WAYFARER TORPEDOED OR SHATTERED BY MINE

British Steamer Badly Damaged Off Scilly Islands. No Lives Lost.

Queenstown, April 12.—(2:32 a. m.)—The Harrison line steamer Wayfarer is on her way to this port in tow of the steamer Pramfield. She was badly damaged by an explosion Sunday while off the Scilly Islands.

Late last night the Wayfarer was thirteen miles off Queenstown harbor and it was expected that several hours would elapse before she reached port.

The first report that the Wayfarer had been beached was erroneous. It is reported that her rudder was blown away by a torpedo or mine and consequently there is much difficulty in navigating her.

According to latest information no lives were lost.

The British steamer Wayfarer is 582 feet long and registered 6,222 tons. She was built in Belfast in 1902 and is owned in Liverpool. She left Galveston January 27 for Liverpool, where she arrived February 17.

No Submarine Seen.

Falmouth, April 13.—(1:55 a. m.)—Survivors of the steamer Wayfarer, landed here, say that shortly after 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon, when about 100 miles off the Scilly islands, as passengers and crew were about to undergo a life-boat practice a terrific explosion occurred, seemingly in the steamer's hold.

No submarine was seen either before or after the explosion, and it could not be said whether the explosion was caused by a mine or a torpedo.

Orders were given for the launching of the boats, but a choppy sea delayed operations and the task was a hazardous one. The men at the oars pulled about for two hours before a big collier was sighted and the boats reached her after a hard struggle. Later 120 men were transferred from this collier to the Newelyn, and the collier then took the Wayfarer in tow for Queenstown.

WAR A BLESSING TO THE RUSSIANS

That Is Opinion of Czar's Finance Minister--Prohibition of Vodka Proves Wonderful Economic Boon.

Petrograd, April 12.—(Via London.)—My opinion was expressed today by Pierre L. Bark, Russian minister of finance, that, economically considered, the war has been a blessing to the people of Russia. Discussing financial and social aspects of the conflict in an interview with the Associated Press, M. Bark said:

"Notwithstanding the depressing and paralyzing effect of the war, the Russian peasant class is more prosperous than at any previous time in the history of the country.

"It is not difficult to account for this unusual prosperity. By virtue of the allowance made by the government to the families of soldiers, which exceeds the earning power of the soldiers, the total income of these families is greater than in times of peace. Thus, instead of feeling any privation as the result of the absence of the men and the loss of their services, the people are beginning to regard the war as a peculiar sort of Godsend which is putting money into their pockets.

Good Effects of Prohibition.

"What about vodka?" was asked of the minister.

"It is prohibition of the sale of vodka which is primarily responsible for the ameliorated condition of the peasant," he responded. "The siege through which all the available earnings formerly dissipated has now been closed and the money is either spent for present necessities or saved for future wants.

"It is not necessary to invent theories to explain why the Russian people should be more prosperous, for the actual fact is that this prosperity is everywhere noticeable. Before the war the average yearly savings deposited amounted to from $15,000,000 to $20,000,000, while in the month of January alone about $30,000,000 was deposited.

"What about the crops.

"The farmers have been very fortunate in being compelled to hold their supply of grain on account of the difficulties of transportation, for grain is now at the highest price of the year. There is every reason to believe the farmers will soon be able to dispose of their grain to foreign markets and at a great advantage.

Expenses of War Pooled.

Discussing the Paris conference of the allied finance ministers to consider financial problems arising from the war, M. Bark said:

"One result was the formulation of an agreement with our allies to pool all the expenses of the war in accordance with this understanding Russia is to draw upon Great Britain and France for money expended in the war, while our allies are to draw upon Russia for grain which they need.

"This is an excellent arrangement for all concerned, for while Russia has enormous resources, she is in need of immediate capital, and our allies, on the other hand, have more capital than supplies.

"I have already arranged a credit of $125,000,000 in France and of $125,000,000 in England, which Russia is to use at any time the occasion arises. We are on the point of making use of part of the French credit.

In response to a question regarding the recent increase of 30 per cent in the tariff, M. Bark said: "That is only a temporary affair, designed partly to make up for the loss in revenue from the vodka traffic.

Trade With United States.

"Russia looks for a tremendous increase in her trade with the United States and her allies to replace the German trade existing before the war. I am not an authority as to what kind of trade treaties will be formed at the end of the war, but I am sure every thing will be done to open the Russian market to these countries and not permit it to slip back to Germany.

"There is now a particular opportunity for the United States, for one of all the countries to which we look for trade is not crippled by the war.

"M. Bark was asked what means were being employed to replace the revenues formerly derived from vodka.

"The amount of this revenue exceeded $100,000,000," he replied. "This is being replaced in a diversity of ways, including a special war tax on railroad transportation, matches, sugar and most ordinary commodities."

MANY LIVES LOST BY AN EXPLOSION

Disaster at Lerwick, Scotland — Entire Street Reported Destroyed by the Explosion.

Aberdeen, Scotland, April 13, 11:15 a. m.)—The Free Press publishes the following telegram from Lerwick:

"A terrible explosion has occurred. Harbor street was wrecked and many lives were lost."

No details are obtainable as yet.

PAY OF TELEGRAPHERS DECLARED TOO SMALL

President Carlton, of Western Union, So Says Opposed to Labor Unions.

Chicago, April 12.—President Newcomb Carlton, of the Western Union Telegraph company, and S. J. Konenkamp, president of the Commercial Telegraphers' Union of America, today testified from their respective viewpoints before the United States commission on industrial relations regarding wages and working conditions of commercial telegraphers.

Carlton caused a mild sensation when he said he believed telegraphers were underpaid.

He added:

"I think they ought to make more money than they do. Ten years ago a Morse telegrapher received $18 a week; it is now $22. It was $12.50 for women and it is now $18. My own view is that a first-class telegrapher should be able to earn at least $5 a day of nine hours."

The witness said his company had one of the best pension and relief organizations in the country and it cost the men nothing. Half a million dollars was expended on it last year, he said.

The witness opposition to the organization headed by Konenkamp, who followed him on the stand, was plain in various utterances.

Subject to Commission.

"We are subject to the control of the interstate commerce commission," said Carlton. "They absolutely fix not only our practices, but our rates. I believe, therefore, the commission should be given sufficient power to see that fair wages were paid and that fair working conditions were provided."

"The policy of the Western Union," Carlton said, "is formed by the executive committee." Jacob Schiff, a member of that committee, was quoted by Chairman Frank P. Walsh as having said that no self-respecting employer would refuse to deal with the representatives of union labor. "Is that your opinion?" asked Mr. Walsh.

"I believe in the organization of labor."

"And in collective bargaining?"

"If collective bargaining is where the organization with whom you are dealing is responsible one per cent."

The witness said that in the five years he has been with the company there has been no union of telegraphers which he considered qualified to represent them. His policy with the men, he said, was to allow an appeal of all grievances. Telegraphers have been dismissed from the company for activity in union affairs, he admitted. He said that special agents were employed to keep the company informed, but denied that "spotters," as Konenkamp designated them, were permitted to use questionable tactics in obtaining information.

Chairman Walsh asked Carlton if he had any remedy for industrial unrest to suggest.

"I do not think there is any panacea in the way of legislation. I think education is the only thing that is going to do that."

Western Union Methods Attacked.

Konenkamp in his testimony referred to some of the methods of the Western Union as "criminal," and the condition of the operators as "slavery." He estimated the number of commercial telegraphers employed by the Western Union and the Postal Telegraph company at 20,000. His union, he said, had agreements with the Canadian Pacific, the International News Service and the United Press. These, he said, recognize the principle of collective bargaining and adjustment of grievances. He declared that wages were lower now than they were forty years ago. He said the tendency was to lengthen hours.

"The constant opposition of the Western Union to unions is no surprise to us," said Konenkamp. "The company has been consistent in that for fifty years, and for thirty years the possession of a union card has been the signal for dismissal. They have employed criminal methods, or at least have turned their heads away when criminal methods were employed. Correspondence of the union was stolen from one of our men at St. Paul and the heads of telegraphers began to fall as the result of information thus obtained concerning the organization. My own room was ransacked in St. Louis, Kansas City, Denver and Salt Lake City."

The witness said that his remedy was government protection of the right of the men to organize and to bargain collectively.

WHITE MAN IS SIGHTED MAROONED ON ICE FLOE

Nome, Alaska, April 12.—Native seal hunters are reported in mail advices from Icy Cape, on the Arctic coast, to have sighted a white man last winter marooned on an ice floe, drifting in a southwesterly direction toward Wrangell island.

The natives believe the man either was a member of Vilhjalmur Stefansson's arctic expedition or was a survivor of the wrecked whaling schooner New Jersey. Attempts to rescue him failed when wind blew the ice floe out of reach.

Today's advices said that unless the wind shifted the floe must have touched Wrangell island.

RAE TANZER'S SISTERS INDICTED FOR PERJURY

Dora and Rose Accused of Swearing Falsely Against Attorney Osborne.

New York, April 12.—Dora and Rose Tanzer, sisters of Rae Tanzer, were today indicted for perjury by the federal grand jury which has been investigating the charge that Rae Tanzer engineered the mails in an attempt to defraud James W. Osborne. The indictment charges that Dora and Rose Tanzer committed perjury by identifying James W. Osborne as the man who had called upon their sister at the Tanzer home in the Bronx.

The grand jury has now returned three indictments as a result of its investigations, which grew out of a breach of promise suit brought by Miss Tanzer against Mr. Osborne. Frank D. Safford, a hotel clerk, was indicted last week on a charge of perjury in connection with his testimony that he saw Miss Tanzer and James W. Osborne at a hotel in New Jersey. Miss Tanzer herself has since admitted that the man she knew as Oliver Osborne was not James W. Osborne.

The grand jury will continue its investigation tomorrow and it was said at the office of the United States district attorney more indictments were expected. Flora and Rose Tanzer will be arraigned tomorrow.

GERMAN RESISTANCE GRADUALLY WEAKENS

Eye-Witness With the British Forces Says Germans Are Unable to Avenge Defeat.

London, April 12.—"It is a significant fact that although a month has passed since the action at Neuve Chapelle, the enemy has made no attempt to retaliate in any quarter, but has remained inactive while we have established ourselves securely on the ground won," says the "eye-witness" attached to British headquarters in a report dated April 9.

"Looking back over the past four months, it is instructive to note the gradual weakening of the German resistance on our front. Formerly any offensive action on our part was met with an immediate counter stroke. This is the first occasion on which the enemy has made no reply at all. This does not mean, of course, that the resistance is collapsing, but the Germans have themselves admitted that with the troops at their disposal on this front they are unable to avenge their defeat.

"Some light has been thrown lately on the conditions prevailing in the area behind the German lines which served to confirm the impression that the general situation is creating great anxiety.

"Both officers and men have openly expressed their uneasiness. Apparently a marked change began to appear in the general demeanor of the German troops soon after Christmas, and then they had been absolutely confident and extremely cheerful, but latterly this feeling has been steadily decreasing. German soldiers have told French civilians they recognized they would be overpowered by the masses of men England was going to place in the field, and they have tried to persuade them that the English were equally bent on ruining France and that they would grab everything for themselves."

The "eye-witness" says the German war levy at Lille, Roubaix and Tourcoing during March amounted to 3,000,000.

REPLY IS CONSIDERED TO GERMAN COMPLAINT

Washington, April 12.—President Wilson and Secretary Bryan had under consideration tonight a draft of a reply to be made to the memorandum of Count von Bernstorff, German ambassador, relative to the question of preventing shipments of arms to the allies unless foodstuffs were permitted to reach Germany's civilian population.

We have the whole subject under consideration and I am not prepared to discuss it," was all Secretary Bryan would say.

The question having been raised as to whether the communication from the German ambassador was by direction of his government, the embassy announced today that the document had been sent pursuant to instructions from the Berlin foreign office.

WILSON IS THANKED BY KING OF BELGIANS

Washington, April 12.—President Wilson today received the following cablegram from King Albert of Belgium:

"I thank you heartily for the greetings of friendship you sent me on the occasion of my birthday."

GAMBLING DID IT ALL, SAYS RUINED BANKER

Chicago, April 12.—Ignatius J. Chiles, al, lawyer and private banker, who is said fled from Chicago with clients and depositors' money, estimated at more than $100,000 of their money, which he declared he had lost in gambling, died here today in the county hospital, a penniless patient, under the name of John Hughes. He had visited South America, Asia and Africa, but his efforts to retain a financial footing failed.

He returned to Chicago several months ago, but did not communicate with his family. Just before he died he made his identity to a nurse, and said: "Tell my old friends that I paid my debts in full with my life. Gambling did it all."

TAFT AND ROOSEVELT TO BE PALLBEARERS

New Haven, Conn., April 12.—Theodore Roosevelt and William H. Taft will be pallbearers at the funeral tomorrow of Professor Thomas R. Lounsbury, the late authority on the English language, who died last week. Services will be held in Battel chapel at Yale.

EVER SALIVATED BY CALOMEL? HORRIBLE!

Calomel is quicksilver and acts like dynamite on your liver.

Calomel loses you a day. You know what calomel is. Quicksilver. Calomel is dynamite. It salivates and crashes into sour bile like dynamite, causing awful nausea. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into one's system.

When you feel bilious, sluggish, constipated and all knocked out, and believe you need a dose of dangerous calomel just remember, that your druggist sells for 50 cents a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone, which is entirely vegetable and absolutely harmless, a perfect substitute for calomel. It is guaranteed to start your liver without stirring up trouble, and not salivate.

Don't take calomel. It makes you sick the next day; it loses you a day's work. Dodson's Liver Tone straightens you right up and you feel great. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and doesn't gripe.

More and More Attractive Come

The New Suits at $25, $29.75 and $35

As this is being written, one big package after another from New York is being opened—and what do we find?

Suits at $25.00, $29.75 and $35.00 that mean, that are more than all the diligence at our command has brought us thus far this spring.

The freshness and smartness and individuality of the suits we shall show now for the first time are such as might be expected of a well regulated suit section at the beginning of a new season—but now—well, we propose that you who still have your suit to select, shall have the privilege of really selecting it from a variety as fine as you could wish for.

Here it is, then, ready for you, as new and as fresh as one of these bright spring mornings.

To tell you of the particular style points of these many new suits just coming in would be all but impossible, we would only impress the fact that we have gathered the most attractive diversity of styles imaginable, and further—the prices at which they are marked make this a remarkable value-giving event. If there is one style-note that stands out more boldly than another it is the "tailorish touch," extreme simplicity, graceful lines instead of gaudy trimmings. Coats made much like a man's as to the revers, the vented back, the pockets. Mannish materials dotted now and then with a dainty tan or sand shade, or pretty serges, poplins, gabardines, men's-wear worsteds.

But the thing to do is this—see this display, it's too big and too fine to pass by. We can only announce it here and make splendid but thoughtful promises of what the values and the styles are.

Silk Suits

Deserving of special notice are the lately arrived silk suits that will give women a new idea of values. We've silk poplin suits at $25.00, at $29.75 and $35.00 that are certainly remarkable. Their little coats are as chic as can be—some of them belted, some ruffled and some just so—very plain. And their skirts flare from tucked and gathered yokes in the most charming way.

Other silk suits are of faille and taffeta. About every color, with a preponderance of blues.

Spring Coats

Beginning at $11.98 we've the mixture weave coats that might be termed jaunty—that flare voluminously from narrow shoulders. Then come the serges, in navy and sand and gray and other tweeds, at $12.50, $18.00, $18.75 to $25.00. Pocketed and belted or plain, equally smart for street wear or on the links.

And the silk coats—the failles, the poplins and the taffetas—with just enough weight to be comfortable.

The display of Spring Coats is at its best right now.

PAINFUL PIMPLES DISFIGURED FACE

Very Sore. Large and Red. Constant Irritation. Kept Awake at Night. Scratching Irritated. Used Cuticura. Pimples Were Gone.

Atwell, Texas.—"My face began to break out about three years ago with small pimples and blackheads some of which were very sore. The pimples were most large and red and there were some which were white and contained a watery matter. The red ones contained a hard substance. The breaking out disfigured my face very much and the constant irritation was very painful. I scratched me keeping me awake at night and I could not keep from scratching. After a month or two I found my whole body breaking out.

"Finally I noticed an advertisement of Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I sent for a free sample and after the third day my face began to get better. I bought a box of Cuticura Ointment and Cuticura Soap and in three weeks' time the acne had completely left my face. My pimples were gone." (Signed) Herman Andrews, August 10, 1914.

Manager of Theater Fined by Recorder For Beating Patron

Necessary to Preserve Order in the "Movies," Says Judge Johnson, But Officials Should Ask Police Aid.

For beating up one of the patrons of his show, J. W. Holliday, manager of the Old Mill vaudeville and movie, was fined $10.75 by the recorder Monday afternoon.

Paul Jones, the patron who got the beating, stated that he had done nothing to arouse the ire of the manager. Several witnesses testified that Jones had been badly treated.

Holliday stated that some young men in a front row became disorderly and that after he had spoken to them, Jones called him and used a vile epithet, he said, asking why the manager didn't try to put him out. He was corroborated by one witness, who heard only a part of the conversation.

Those who testified in Jones behalf said that the man had spoken civilly to Holliday and that he had been held by the hair of the head and beaten in the face.

Jones was arrested Saturday night, when the row occurred, and locked up, while bleeding. No case was made against Holliday until a number of citizens had telephoned protests to the police station. Officer Gordon, who is on that beat, however, knew nothing of the matter until his attention was called to it, the officer arresting Jones being employed by the theater to preserve order.

Recorder Johnson took occasion to say to Holliday that while managers of such shows ought to preserve order, they had no right to take the law in their own hands when there were police on hand to make arrests.

M'ADOO CHARGED WITH CONSPIRING

notice that for failure to comply with a like request, made on January 22, it was assessed a penalty of $5,000. The next day a formal demand for payment of this fine, made by two bank examiners, was refused. On April 1 a quarterly installment of the interest on the $1,000,000 of 2 per cents held by the Riggs—in the comptroller's custody to secure its circulation—came due. The comptroller, the complaint sets forth, "wrongfully and unlawfully" ordered the treasurer of the United States to withhold the payment of the interest.

Language Charged to Comptroller.

In this connection the bill alleges that Mr. McAdoo "had usurped" the power of the treasurer.

The bill asks that Mr. Williams be enjoined from revoking the Riggs designation as a depositary for the receipts of other national banks or from refusing to approve it as a depositary. An injunction to restrain Mr. McAdoo from declaring the Riggs out of the treasurer of the United States is asked. The court also is asked to set aside sections of the revised statutes dealing with the examinations of banks, "unconstitutional and void," and "must be construed as they have been and are now construed and enforced" by the defendants.

The bank's officers tonight gave out a statement outlining at length their view of the events of the last year from the day up to the present writing. In day, along the lines of the sworn statement in the bill of complaint.

Comptroller Williams Answers.

Comptroller Williams issued this statement tonight:

"I have not seen the bill filed by the complainants, but have read the extracts furnished the press.

"The recent investigations of the affairs of the Riggs National bank disclosed irregularities and unlawful practices on the part of certain officers of sufficient importance to merit their reference to the department of justice, and that department engaged the services of Louis D. Brandeis, of Boston, some weeks ago as special counsel in the case, and it is charged with the attitude of these officers to attempt, by unwarranted and untrue statements, to place themselves and the bank in a position of martyrdom at the hands of the administration.

"It is not the practice of this department to discuss in the public press the affairs of any national banking association, but since the officers in question have, in the present instance, submitted this matter to the court, this office is prepared to show a condition of affairs in the management of the Riggs bank which fully warranted the action taken in this office. The bank is solvent, the interests of the depositors have been safeguarded by the actions of the comptroller's office, but if the methods and practices complained of had been permitted to continue the results would have been serious. The evidence will abundantly show that it has been necessary for this office to seek to terminate the reprehensible practices of the officers in question and their misuse of the powers delegated to them by the directors.

"The penalty imposed for failure to make reports, the collection of which penalty they seek to have enjoined, grows out of their unwillingness to disclose the true nature of the transactions engaged in.

Purpose of Department.

"The whole purpose of the department has been to require the bank to give up the unlawful and dangerous practices and methods which had grown in vogue for years past, and which had threatened alike the welfare and security of both shareholders and depositors, and to require the bank to conform to the plain requirements of the national bank act, and to the regulations of the office of the comptroller of the currency.

"In its efforts to ascertain the real truth in regard to the operations and affairs of the Riggs National bank, letters were, from time to time, directed to the bank from the office of the comptroller of the currency for information. These requests for data in various cases were refused, and on March 30 the Riggs National bank was notified of the imposition of a penalty of $5,000, under section 5211 of the United States revised statutes, for the refusal to furnish information to the comptroller's office in regard to its affairs.

"On April 5 the comptroller of the currency addressed a letter to the bank calling its attention to various false statements which had been made by its officers under oath, and what are regarded as deliberate efforts to deceive the department, and notified the bank that 'in view of the unsatisfactory and dangerous conditions which have come to light as the result of the investigations of the bank and its office and the national bank examiner in view of the unreliability of the statements made by your officers, under oath or otherwise, and your long continued defiance of the law and disregard for the instructions of this office, you are hereby notified that the comptroller of the currency will await further advice, refuse to approve the Riggs National bank as a depositary for the reserves of other national banks.'"

Extracts From Letters.

Attached to Mr. Williams' statement are extracts from letters sent to the bank at various times since July 22, 1914, which charge that officers of the institution had benefited personally from use of the bank's funds through "dummy" loans, and that a policy of fostering stock speculation among clerks and professional men had been followed by the bank. Various other allegations also are made, to most of which the bank's bill of complaint seeks to make answer. The bill of complaint also gives extracts from some of these letters and the replies made by the bank.

ILL AND DESPONDENT NEGRO WOMAN ENDS LIFE WITH REVOLVER

Lizzie Humphries, age 25 years, a negro woman, shot and killed herself this morning at 7 o'clock at her home, 476 McDaniel street. She used a small revolver, firing only one shot, which took effect in her heart. Two other negro women, Flossie Gerald and Jessie Melton, were in the house at the time. They say they were awakened from their sleep by the report of the pistol. They told the police that the Humphries woman had become despondent over continued illness.

Has Husband Jailed, Then Wife Repents And Pleads for Him

At the earnest solicitation of a repentant wife, Judge George E. Johnson Monday morning gave George J. Doughtry, 251 Capitol avenue, a private hearing in his office and heard an appeal from the wife that the charges she made against him early Sunday morning, when she claimed he threatened to kill her, be dismissed.

Judge Johnson refused to dismiss all cases, but fined Doughtry $5.75 for disorderly conduct. He was arrested Sunday morning by Call officers Austin and Wood and placed in the barracks at the instance of Mrs. Doughtry. He was later released under bond and given a summons to appear in recorder's court.

Mrs. Doughtry, grown repentant of her act, called on Judge Johnson and pleaded with him to give her husband a private hearing, so she would not be forced to undergo the ordeal of a public trial. He consented and only the witnesses and officers of the court were present. Mr. and Mrs. Doughtry apparently happy and reconciled, left the station together.

SIX YEARS IN PRISON GIVEN MAYOR ROBERTS

Many Others Also Sentenced for Election Frauds--Federal Judge Blames Saloons.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 12.—Four men convicted in the Terre Haute election fraud trial and sentenced to the federal penitentiary at Fort Leavenworth, Kan., received their commitment papers late today and were given until Sunday to begin the trip to prison.

The other sixteen, including Mayor Donn M. Roberts, who received prison sentences and appealed today, and the eighty-seven who were given sentences ranging from one day to six months in the local jail, were in jail here tonight. It was said the sixteen would be given two or three days in which to obtain their appeal bonds, which were fixed by Judge Anderson at $10,000 for each year the men were sentenced. Edward Holler, former chief of police, who had pleaded guilty, also received a prison sentence.

The four who withdrew from the appeal are John M. Masselink, city sealer of weights and measures and former member of the state legislature; Arthur Gillis, progressive election official; Joseph Strang, liquor salesman, and George Sovern, gambler. Each had been sentenced to a year and a day in prison and to pay fines of $100.

To obtain liberty pending his appeal, Mayor Roberts, who was sentenced to prison for six years and to pay a fine of $2,000—the severest sentence given—will have to furnish a bond of $60,000.

Only eight of the 116 prisoners engaged pleaded guilty. Four were given suspended sentences, and four others, at the request of Federal Attorney Bailey, were not sentenced, as, he said, it might invalidate their testimony in the trial of Roy Shattuck, republican candidate for congress in the fifth district, and four other republicans who were candidates for offices in Vigo county. The five were indicted on the charge that they gave Frank Hess, whose sentence was deferred, $1,000 to secure their election.

In passing sentence today Judge Anderson frequently commented on the evidence and conditions in Terre Haute. While considering the case of a number of saloon keepers who had pleaded guilty, he said:

"My notion is that the saloon will have to go. I believe the time will come when the people will rise up and smash the saloon, at least as we have it now. The evidence in this case showed that the saloons were the centers of nearly all the corruption in the election at Terre Haute."

AFTER TAKING OATH GEN. HUERTA LANDS

personal business. He swore that he had no intention of going to Mexico or to Cuba. The length of his stay, he said, was indefinite, but he would return to Spain, possibly sailing early in May.

Huerta Silent About Mission.

General Huerta posed for newspaper photographers, but declined to say anything as to his mission—agreeing to meet newspaper men at his hotel Friday. Regarding this appointment, he said:

"I understand that my presence in this country creates in you the desire to know my views about the affairs of Mexico, and I promise to satisfy your wishes at the best of my ability. I beg your confidence to remember that no interview with me should be considered as authentic unless it carries my personal signature."

General Huerta was accompanied by General Jose C. DelGardo, his private secretary, and by Abraham Ratner, a personal friend of the general, who declared himself as an American citizen, giving his residence as New York. Ratner said that he had lived in Mexico at varying intervals for twenty years and that he left the country for Spain on May 27, 1913. Other passengers on the ship said that General Huerta mingled little with his fellow passengers, keeping with his two companions.

There were no Mexicans to meet the general at Quarantine. On the pier, however, were gathered a number of men, who have been identified with Mexican affairs. They greeted General Huerta affectionately.

Cried "Viva Huerta."

As he came down the gangway two Mexicans, standing nearby, lifted their hats and exclaimed: "Viva Huerta!"

Around the pier were gathered several hundred persons, a number of uniformed police officers and plainclothesmen being in attendance. No demonstration was made, however.

One of those at the pier was Captain George J. Head, of the Texas National guard, who delivered to General Huerta in June, 1913, the ultimatum of Governor O. B. Colquitt, of Texas, that if a single Texan was harmed by bullets coming over the border, his generals and commanding officers would be held to personal account. Captain Head said he was here to meet General Huerta as a friend.

Abraham Ratner, who gave his business as importer, said that he had been with General Huerta for several months. He said that the general was in the United States on personal business and that Mexican politics would not enter into it. He said the general might go to Washington before returning to Spain. Ratner said that to his knowledge, Huerta had not seen General Porfirio Diaz while he was abroad.

To all appearances, Huerta has changed but little since he left Mexico. While he is credited with having a fair command of English, what little talking he did was through an interpreter. Through the interpreter he warmly thanked the photographers and reporters for the interest displayed in his arrival.

Huerta Salutes Americans.

"It is a pleasure for me to be again in the United States," he said, "and it gives me an opportunity to admire once more the greatness of the American people. From the train through their press. It is nothing strange that in stepping on United States territory I should consider my first duty to salute this great nation, as many of its citizens have been and are my personal friends.

Immigration and custom officials said they had received no special instructions from Washington regarding the landing of General Huerta. He received the same consideration granted to all.

HUGH ROWE IS NAMED UNIVERSITY TRUSTEE

Former Mayor of Athens Appointed to Succeed Capt. James White.

Hugh Rowe, twice mayor of Athens and owner of The Athens Banner, was yesterday appointed by Governor Slaton a member of the board of trustees of the University of Georgia, succeeding the late Captain James White, of Athens.

Mr. Rowe is one of the best known and best liked men in the state. He has taken an active part in the politics of his county and of the state, and has held a number of important offices.

Mr. Rowe has always been noted for his devotion to the university. He has been one of its greatest friends and defenders.

According to the law, there must be two trustees who are residents of Athens. Harry Hodgson and Mr. Rowe are now the representatives of the Classic City.

ANTI-TIPPING BILL PASSED BY WISCONSIN

Madison, Wis., April 12.—The Wisconsin assembly tonight passed an anti-tipping bill which prohibits the offering of any gratuity by patrons of any hotel, restaurant, barber shop or any public service corporation engaged in the transportation of passengers.

The penalty for violation is a fine of from $5 to $25.

AVIATOR PEOLI KILLED WHILE MAKING DIVE

Washington, April 12.—Cecil Malcolm Peoli, a South American and the first aviator to fly over the Andes mountains, was killed at the United States army aviation field at College Park, Md., near here, today while making a vertical dive in a machine of his own invention.

Peoli's machine fell from a height of 200 feet. When observers reached the wrecked aeroplane they found the aviator dead.

FAMOUS FOR HER HAIR

Actress Tells How to Obtain It.

Madame Rose, the well-known actress who played on one of the leading vaudeville circuits the past winter and who is especially noted for her long, beautiful hair, in a recent interview in Chicago made the following statement: "Any lady or gentleman can promote the growth of their hair and make it soft and glossy with this simple recipe which they can mix at home. To a half pint of water add 1 oz. of bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound and ¼ oz. of glycerine. Apply to the scalp two or three times a week with the finger tips. This is not only the finest hair grower I have ever known, but it prevents the hair from falling out, removes dandruff and scalp humors, darkens streaked, faded gray hair and makes it soft and glossy. The ingredients can be purchased at any drug store at very little cost.

Good Clothes Not Expensive

Men who formerly paid from $50 to $75 for a suit now buy Hart Schaffner & Marx for $18 to $40, getting the same service and better style. The saving is proportionately the same at other prices.

Buy An Extra Suit

Such men figure it this way: Buy two of our suits at $25 each; the saving is at least $50. Buy an additional suit for $25, thus having more clothes and spending less money.

Pay Enough

We constantly recommend $25 as a good price to pay. Hart Schaffner & Marx make clothes that sell for more and for less but $25 represents the point at which the maximum in quality begins to assert itself.

THE POSSESSION OF MONEY SAVED

is valuable and powerful not merely because of the force locked up in the money, but because of the state of mind which it produces in the owner. His peace of mind enables him to seize an opportunity when it comes, for he is not the slave of the dollar earned each day, does not live in dread of tomorrow's needs. The man who has saved some money and who has it knows what saving means and what dollars are worth.

Not Sold By Weight

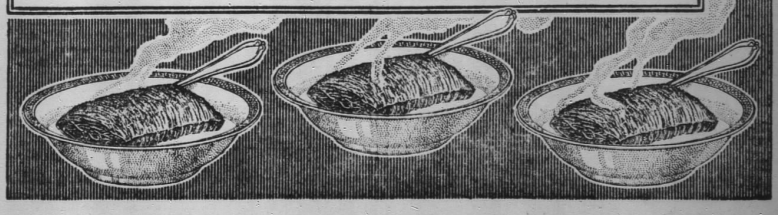
When you buy Shredded Wheat you are paying something for the patented process by which the whole wheat is made digestible in the human stomach. We are not selling raw wheat. It is what you digest, not what you eat, that builds muscle, bone and brain.

Shredded Wheat

is the whole wheat made digestible by steam-cooking, shredding and baking. The filmy, porous shreds are quickly permeated by the digestive juices, enabling the body to take up every particle of nutriment stored in the whole wheat grain. Don't be misled by net weight regulations or comparisons of raw, indigestible foods with Shredded Wheat.

Two Shredded Wheat Biscuits, heated in the oven to restore crispness, served with hot milk or cream, make a complete, nourishing, satisfying meal at a total cost of five or six cents. Also delicious with fruits. TRISCUIT is the Shredded Wheat Wafer, eaten as a toast with butter or soft cheese, or as a substitute for white flour bread or crackers.

Made only by The Shredded Wheat Company, Niagara Falls, N. Y.



TRUST CHARGE MADE IN GOVERNMENT SUIT

Witnesses Testify Before Commission About Influence of Corn Products Co.

Testimony tending to show that a monopoly of the manufacture and sale of glucose, starch and mixed table syrups is maintained through the organization of a trust which unduly restrains trade in these products was given yesterday at the federal building in the civil suit which the government has brought under the Sherman anti-trust law against the Corn Products Refining company and others.

Those who appeared on the stand Monday were R. D. Wilder, president of the Wilder Manufacturing company, J. D. Blakeley, secretary-treasurer of the Garner-Blakeley company, both of Atlanta; Homer S. Prater, local broker for the Bininger company, of Keokuk, Iowa, and P. J. Williams, of Columbus, Ga. These men stated that glucose and mixed syrups had been sold at cost, at a profit until the organization of the trust in 1906. Since that time, however, the trust had controlled the syrup business by forcing the price of glucose upward had compelled several firms to close up.

Others who will testify for the government will be W. C. Wright, of Cairo; H. S. Griggs and L. B. Gas, of Jacksonville, and David Ingrises and L. D. Whitfield, of Montgomery.

This suit was brought on March 1, 1913, in New York. Testimony is being taken by various commissions in the east, the middle west and on the Pacific coast in order to obviate loss of time in bringing witnesses to New York. The hearings in the case at Atlanta will continue for several days before Rowland W. Phillips, special examiner, in the court of appeals room. The government is represented by Van Sinderen Lindsley, of New York, special assistant to the attorney general.

Preston Davie, of the New York law firm of O'Brien, Boardman & Platt, and James W. Austin, of Austin & Smith, represent the defendant companies composed of the Corn Products Refining company, Penick & Ford, limited, the National Starch company, the St. Louis Syrup and Preserving company and numerous individuals as directors of these concerns, including E. T. Bedford, president of the Corn Products Refining company, and for many years an officer of the Standard Oil company.

EMPIRE LIFE HEARING BEGAN MONDAY MORNING

Judge W. D. Ellis, in the Fulton superior court Monday, began hearing evidence in the Empire Life Insurance company case to determine, if possible, what jurisdiction the Fulton superior court has in the litigation begun several months ago, when a receiver was asked by J. R. Brown and others. It will require several days to hear the cases involved in the tangled litigation.

C. T. & L. C. Hopkins, W. Carroll Latimer and Dorsey, Brewster, Howell & Heyman represent the plaintiffs and intervenors in the original petition; Alston & Sibley represent the Whitney company. W. A. Wimbish and Austin & Smith represent the stockholders who are joining in the petition for a receiver. R. C. Alston represents the insurance commissioner, and Rosser, Brandon, Slaton & Phillips, Little, Lowndes, Smith & Goldstein, Hooper and Robert H. Jones represent the Empire Life Insurance company.

J. R. Brown and others are asking to have a receiver other than Insurance Commissioner Wright.

Breaks Havana Engagement To Sing in Atlanta This Year

The Metropolitan Opera company announces that Signorita Lucrezia Bori has broken her annual engagement in Havana in order to appear in Atlanta this year.

Atlanta was greatly disappointed last year when Signorita Bori failed to come down with the opera stars and went to Havana instead. But no one who attended the Atlanta opera season two years ago can forget the delightful impression made by her.

"A Spanish Geraldine Farrar" was the apt comment of one Atlanta lady who first saw her on the stage, and later watched her seated in a hammock at a memorable lawn party surrounded by a half a dozen Atlanta girls of her own age, all laughing and chatting as though they had been to boarding school together and were enjoying a summer vacation.

It is safe to say that she will receive a very cordial welcome back to this city, for her wonderful voice, her dainty personal charm is still so fresh. Since she was here her art has grown wonderfully. She has become a prima donna of the first rank. Only the other evening she appeared in the title role of Mascagni's Japanese opera, "Iris." It was a great personal triumph for her and her impersonation of the little Nippon maid made every one forget all her predecessors of the past.

Miss Lucrezia Bori's real name is Borgia. Her native place is Valencia, Spain, where the famous Pope Alexander Borgia and his son and daughter, Cesar and Lucrezia, came from. It is quite probable that the little prima donna comes from the same family as her namesake, who became the duchess of Ferrara. At all events she is playfully called the Duchess by her comrades in the company every one of whom, women as well as men, love her for her simple, gracious, unaffected manner. Even if you asked one of the stage hands what he thought of Signorita Bori he would be sure to say, "Ah! she is a real little lady."

In "The Love of the Three Kings" and in "The Tales of Hoffman," Signorita Bori will be seen at her best, the contrast between the two roles being such as to display her unusual histrionic ability.

The sale of seats to single performances still continues at a most pleasing rate. Indications are that this season's attendance will be as large as usual. Seats are on sale at the Cable company and at Phillips & Crew.

ATLANTA PRESBYTERY WILL MEET IN SENOIA

Senoia, Ga., April 12.—(Special.)—The Atlanta Presbytery will hold its annual meeting with the Presbyterians of Senoia, beginning Tuesday, April 13, and will be in session for three days. The Presbytery embraces the territory in fifteen counties. It has forty-eight ministers, including a missionary, H. Alfaro, and fifteen candidates for the ministry and sixty-seven churches. The meeting will be a most interesting one, as about 100 delegates are expected, including a number of the leading Presbyterian ministers in the state.

NEGRO SLAYER WANTED; ARRESTED IN OKLAHOMA

A requisition was issued by Governor Slaton on Monday for Wilmer McGriff, a negro, under arrest in Oklahoma and wanted in Georgia for the murder of W. S. Washington, a white man, and the negroes to Colquitt county, July, 1911. McGriff was arrested in Georgia and made his escape to Oklahoma. He several months ago confessed his arresting officer.

Sheriff W. W. Boyd, of Colquitt county, called at the governor's office on Monday, and, after securing his papers, left for Oklahoma.

He Wants $2,000,000 In Confederate Money To Pay Off Veterans

J. M. Williams, of Memphis, recently appointed paymaster general, with the rank of brigadier general, of the United Confederate veterans, is planning to collect $2,000,000 in the currency of the Confederate States of America, with which to pay off the veterans at the Richmond reunion.

He is now collecting this money, and asks that those desiring to donate send their money to him at No. 400-401 Bank of Commerce building, Memphis, Tenn. He will announce the list of donors at the Richmond reunion.

BARACAS TO BANQUET AT Y. M. C. A. TONIGHT

The Baraca and Philathea organizations of the Gordon Street Baptist church will invade the Y. M. C. A. edifice on Luckie street tonight at 8:30 o'clock and take possession of the banquet hall, where a sumptuous spread will be arranged in honor of the winners in a contest just held by the two classes.

An interesting program has been arranged. Speeches will be delivered by W. H. Dolvin, Dr. Frank Eskridge, G. C. Singleton, Rev. W. M. Sentell and L. A. Witherspoon. Music will be rendered by a special orchestra. Reports as to the accomplishments of their respective classes will be rendered by Mrs. W. D. Upshaw, leader of the Baraca, and Mrs. W. M. Sheats, leader of the Philatheas. Dr. Joe Broughton will act as toastmaster.

Bitten by Two Dogs, Woman Enters Suit For $10,000 Damages

Because she was bitten by two dogs, Mrs. John W. Cox filed suit in the city court Monday against James M. Moore, a grocer living at 195 Cleburne avenue, for $10,000.

Mr. Cox also entered suit for $2,000 for the injuries said to have been sustained by his wife.

It is claimed that Mr. Moore allowed the dogs to run at large and that Mrs. Cox was severely bitten on the legs.

Mr. Cox, who is a well-known attorney, sues for the loss of his wife's services.

The suit was filed by Reuben Arnold as attorney for the plaintiffs.

BIRMINGHAM-ROME HIGHWAY PLANNED

Rome, Ga., April 12.—(Special.)—The Rome Chamber of Commerce will make a strong effort to have a highway between Rome and Birmingham, and is in correspondence with commercial organizations along the proposed route, which will end at Atlanta. The plan is to have the highway tap the Dixie highway at this point.

BERRY SCHOOL BOARD WILL MEET WEDNESDAY

Rome, Ga., April 12.—(Special.)—The annual meeting of the board of trustees of the Berry school will be held at the school on Wednesday, April 14. Among those who will be in attendance are John J. Jackson, of Atlanta, and Thomas Berry, of Birmingham.

Change City Employees.

Rome, Ga., April 12.—(Special.)—Changes continue to be made in the city employees by the new commissioners. Leonard G. Todd today assumed his duties in the waterworks department in place of Edward Malone, and O. N. Richardson, Jr., was appointed timekeeper for the street force, a position created by the commissioners at their last meeting.

ACTION POSTPONED ON "SPLIT TICKET" BY THE COMMISSION

The interstate commerce commission announced in Washington yesterday afternoon that it has postponed final action on the Pennsylvania railroad "split ticket" case until October 14.

This means that passengers traveling between Atlanta and New York, until October 14, at least, still have the right of the use of mileage straight through to New York, without having to stop in Washington and purchase new Pullman transportation and recheck their baggage, which they would have to do under the enforcement of the Pennsylvania railroad's rule. Whether or not this privilege will obtain after October 14 depends upon the commission's ruling.

EXAMINE TEACHERS OF GEORGIA JULY 30

The date for the examination of public school teachers in every county in the state was fixed for July 30 and 31 by the state board of education which met at the capitol in its regular quarterly meeting yesterday. Besides this matter only routine business was attended to.

MUCH INTEREST SHOWN IN BEN GREET PLAYERS

Atlanta lovers of Shakespearean drama are taking keen interest in the announcement that the famous Ben Greet Woodland Players will give an open-air performance on the campus of Georgia Tech next Monday afternoon, April 19. This is a Georgia Tech affair, brought about through arrangements made by Dr. K. G. Matheson, and is designed to awaken general interest in the classic drama in Atlanta and the public will be given an opportunity to attend. The play to be presented is "As You Like It."

The cast, which is headed by Elsie Herndon Searns, is, with a few minor exceptions, the same as in several seasons past, and includes Mr. George Somnes, Henry Calver, George Hare, Raymond Bramley, Thomas Kelly, Clarissa Selwynne and Ethel Grey.

PROTEST SETTLEMENT EXCHANGE BANK CASE

Ask Court to Set Aside Decision Confirming Act of Receivers.

Macon, Ga., April 12.—(Special.)—A petition has been filed in the Bibb superior court asking Judge Mathews to set aside his recent order confirming the settlement between the receivers, directors and stockholders of the defunct Exchange bank by the payment of $20 a share in full settlement of all liability, this petition being filed by Attorney Custis Nottingham for George B. Turpin and others.

It is alleged that the order of the court was granted upon an unfiled petition of which the complainants in the present action had no notice. They claim that the $20 per share received from the directors has been applied to the credit of the stockholders who had the receivers bring the action which constitutes a diversion of the funds of the bank to the credit of favored stockholders and to the exclusion of depositors, creditors and all other stockholders. It is further alleged that the order is inequitable in that it creates an equality between the stockholders of the bank, giving illegal credit to six of the wealthiest stockholders and authorizing the receivers to mulct the others.

Accompanying the petition filed today was a copy of a rather salty letter sent by Attorney Nottingham to the receivers protesting against the settlement with the stockholders.

Judge Mathews in Valdosta.

Macon, Ga., April 12.—(Special.)—Judge H. A. Mathews, of the superior courts of the Macon circuit, and Judge Thomas, of Valdosta, have swapped courts for this week. Judge Mathews presiding over the Berrien superior court of Fitzgerald and Judge Thomas over the Bibb superior court. The change was brought about through the disqualification of the two judges to hear certain cases to be tried in their own circuit.

Macon Has "Jitney Bus."

Macon, Ga., April 12.—(Special.)—Macon already has one jitney bus line in operation and it is understood that within the next two weeks another line will be operated.

The first jitney bus went into service Sunday, operating from the west side of the river over into East Macon and, while the service was well patronized, it was evident that most of those riding were sightseers and not ordinary passengers.

Dug Hole in Looking For Treasure; Falls In It and Is Killed

Columbus, Ga., April 12.—(Special.)—J. W. Harris, a well-known citizen of Phoenix City, Ala., was found by searchers lying at the bottom of a hole 6 feet deep that he had dug under his house. His neck was broken, presumably by his having fallen into the hole.

Harris had for some time labored under the hallucination, that a sum of money was buried under his house and at odd times dug for the treasure, usually devoting a portion of each Sunday to the work.

When found by members of his family he was lying at the bottom of the excavation in a crumpled heap.

Harris was 58 years old. A family survives him. The fugeral will take place tomorrow at Glen Alta, Ga.

He spoke on "Current Dramatic Literature" this evening before the Athens Center of the Drama league. He speaks only in Atlanta and at Berean college-conservatory after leaving Athens.

Georgia Medicos Will Hold Annual Meeting In Macon April 21-23

Macon, Ga., April 12.—(Special.)—Macon is preparing for the coming convention of the Georgia Medical society, which will meet in Macon April 21-23. The councilor and the House of Delegates will also hold a convention at the same time, all sessions to be held at the Hotel Dempsey, which has been designated as official headquarters.

The convention is to be presided over by Dr. W. B. Hardman, of Commerce, the address of welcome to be made by Dr. K. P. Moore, of Macon, while the response will be made by Dr. Thomas R. Wright, of Augusta.

One of the most important subjects to be discussed by the convention will be "Twilight Sleep." A paper on this subject will be read by A. Macon Bigham.

An important matter that will be considered will be that of the necessity for a state prosecutor to enforce the state medical laws.

Many other important subjects pertaining to the medical profession will be considered.

Judge Harris to Reunion.

Macon, Ga., April 12.—(Special.)—All of the different Macon organizations, including the local camp of Confederate Veterans, the Sons of Veterans, the U. D. C. and the Macon drum and bugle corps, are going to the reunion at Richmond in June, on the same train. This will be known as the "Governor's Special" and will be operated from Macon to Atlanta over the Central of Georgia and from Atlanta to Richmond over the Southern railway. Governor-elect Nat E. Harris, of Macon, will head the party, the governor-elect having been named as one of the official delegates from the Macon camp.

FIVE NEGROES HELD ON BURGLARY CHARGE

Buchanan, Ga., April 12.—(Special.)—John Smith, M. Spencer, William Henry Mathis, Charles Reese and W. M. Bentley, the five negroes who were arrested at Adairsville Friday morning charged with breaking into the Bartlett hardware store at Bronen Wednesday night, were arraigned before Justices Jones and Bullard here this afternoon and given a preliminary hearing.

In Wednesday night's burglary a number of knives, pistols, razors, etc., were taken. These articles were found on two of the negroes at Adairsville.

The other three denied any knowledge of the crime, stating that they met the negroes in a freight car on the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railway and were shown the stolen articles with the explanation that they were found in a suit case which the two negroes had stolen from two other "green" negroes in the Union station in Atlanta.

All five negroes were bound over under $200 bond for appearance at the July term of Hasalson superior court.

JAMES WHITE, FOR 43 YEARS CASHIER, DEAD

Athens, Ga., April 12.—(Special.)—The funeral of Captain James White, one of the most prominent figures in finance in the state, for forty-three years cashier and executive head of the National Bank of Athens, who died yesterday afternoon from the First Presbyterian church.

His father, John White, came to America from Ireland early in the last century and established the plantation which his son and other descendants are the sole owners. He established in the first cotton factory in Georgia at White Hall, the old White home, Captain White, following, was interested in these two institutions and others, handling more than $2,000,000 and directing the financial interests of as much more. He was interested in the James White Power company, Princeton cotton mill, Star thread mill, High Shoals factory, Athens Railway and Electric company, the Georgia Railway and Banking company, the Southern Mutual Insurance company and the Columbia Fire Insurance company, being owner of several commanies and director in all those mentioned.

D. A. R. SELECTS SITE FOR BIG INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL AT ST. MARYS

Waycross, Ga., April 12.—(Special.)—A 40-acre site at St. Marys has been selected for the proposed industrial school the Daughters of the American Revolution will establish. The Georgia delegation to the national convention, so it is understood, will support the offer made by St. Marys and if the national body fails to approve of the Georgia offer, may decide to erect and maintain an industrial school under the auspices of the Georgia Daughters of the American Revolution.

Twenty acres of the town common were donated by St. Marys and Captain L. Johnson added to this donation a tract of twenty acres adjoining. The site has a frontage on the North river and is considered especially adapted to the uses proposed. The committee from the state Daughters of the American Revolution have visited St. Marys and expressed themselves as highly pleased. They were entertained by the women of St. Marys and attended a meeting of the Civic league, at which they discussed plans for the school. St. Marys people are enthusiastic over prospects of landing the school.

Waycross, Ga., April 12.—(Special.)—Reports were received here today of the killing of an unknown negro at Fargo, in the lower part of Clinch county by a Georgia, Southern and Florida train. The evidence gathered by the coroner indicated that the man was drunk and went to sleep with his head across a rail. When a train passed the sleeper lost his head.

Ask Bibb Grand Jury To Probe Conditions In Restricted District

Macon, Ga., April 12.—(Special.)—The fact that more than 200 witnesses have been summoned to appear before the Bibb county grand jury, which convenes next Monday, indicates that the solicitor has an unusually large number of cases on his docket to be investigated. Chief among these, it is said, are the near beer saloons and the houses opened in Macon's restricted district.

Failing to have the civil service commissioners abolish the district, occupied by the scarlet women, it is said the ministers of the city plan to carry their fight before the grand jury, and have not only the operators of the houses, but the owners of the property, as well, indicted.

The near-beer men have not been molested now for about a year, but an underground report says that an effort will be made to indict all of them for violation of the state prohibition law.

The number of witnesses summoned to testify before the grand jury is the largest that has ever been known in this county.

POSTOFFICE BURNS.

Early Morning Fire Does $20,000 Damage at Maysville.

Maysville, Ga., April 12.—(Special.)—Fire which broke out this morning at 5 o'clock in Boon Sudderth's storeroom, near the depot, on Homer street, quickly destroyed the entire building with two other adjoining structures. The postoffice, Dr. Sharp's dental office and jewelry store, Woods' barber shop and the offices of the Virginia-Carolina Fertilizer company were a total loss. The total loss is estimated at $20,000.

Ragland-Groves.

The wedding of Miss Evelyn Edwine Ragland and Mr. Robert Walker Groves took place yesterday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Edward Ragland, on Ponce de Leon avenue. Palms, ferns and smilax formed a beautiful background for jonquils, yellow tulips and sunburst roses, which were used in profusion to decorate the apartments. The ceremony was in the music room, the bridal party forming a circle before the altar of greenery and Easter lilies, on either side of which were cathedral candles.

The bride made a lovely picture in her gown of white tulle over white charmeuse, and trimmed with rare old lace and seed pearls. Her veil of tulle was caught with orange blossoms and her flowers were a shower of valley lilies.

The brides two sisters, Mrs. Walter Hopkins and Mrs. Robin Kinzy, acted as matrons of honor, and Miss Eva Powers, of Anniston, Ala., was maid of honor. Mr. Mariano Dan, of Savannah, was Mr. Groves' best man, and Miss Rhea Habersham and Miss Marion Fichler were bridesmaids. Little Miss Lucile Stone and Harold Dobbins were ribbon-bearers. The bride was given away by her father.

The matron of honor and bridesmaids wore white lace gowns with yellow girdles, and carried sunburst roses. The maid of honor wore yellow satin over satin of the same shade, and her flowers were sunburst roses.

An orchestra played the wedding march and rendered a bright program before the ceremony and during the informal reception which followed.

Mrs. Ragland, the bride's mother, wore black crepe de chine, and the groom's mother, Mrs. John T. Groves, of Savannah, wore black chiffon over black charmeuse.

Assisting in entertaining were Mrs. James Gilbert, of Columbus; Mrs. S. J. Powers, of Anniston; Mrs. W. T. Dorough and Miss Alice Dorough.

Mrs. Gilbert wore a gown of flowered taffeta; Mrs. Dorough wore embroidered chiffon, Mrs. Dorough was gowned in gray taffeta, trimmed with steel, and Miss Dorough's gown was white chiffon and lace.

Misses Elsie Walker and Mary Rushton served punch.

Mr. and Mrs. Groves left for the east and will sail from New York April 21 for the Bermuda islands. They will be at home in Savannah after May 15.

Among the out-of-town guests present were Mr. and Mrs. John M. Groves, Captain and Mrs. George C. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. George Bauer, Mr. Mariano Dan and Mr. Tex McDonald, of Savannah; Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Powers and Misses Sarah and Eva Powers, of Anniston, Ala.; Mr. and Mrs. James Gilbert and Mr. Walter Caraill, of Columbus; Mrs. F. M. Miss Caroline Briggs Weds Mr. George M. Brown, Jr.

Mrs. M. A. Briggs, of Valdosta, announces the marriage of her daughter, Harriet Caroline, to Mr. George M. Brown, Jr., on Sunday evening at 9 o'clock at home.

The ceremony was performed by Dr. W. F. Smith, of the Methodist church, and there was present only the immediate family.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown arrived in Atlanta yesterday and are at home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George M. Brown, on Peachtree street.

The announcement of the marriage will be read with interest throughout the state, since both young people are prominently known.

Mrs. Brown, who is a graduate of Lucy Cobb, is a beautiful young woman, who has a wide acquaintance in Georgia and is cordially admired wherever she is known. She has made many friends in Atlanta on the occasion of visits here with her sister, Mrs. Herbert Dyer, during the latter's residence in Atlanta.

Mr. Brown is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George M. Brown, his father a banker and capitalist, and he is the grandson of the late Joseph E. Brown, ex-governor and senator from Georgia. He is associated with his father in business, and has a host of friends to congratulate him.

English Girls Will Appear In Drawing Room Recital

Governor and Mrs. John M. Slaton will give a reception this evening at the mansion to the Misses Dorothy, Rosalind and Cynthia Fuller, of Dorsetshire, England, and the occasion will be one of the most brilliant social events of the spring.

The feature of the occasion will be a recital, in costume, of English, Scotch and Irish ballads and folk songs by the Misses Fuller, who are artists of international reputation.

They do only drawing room work, and have been featured in the homes of artistic people who enjoy entertaining their friends in a distinctive way, these recitals in New York, at the white house and many American cities. They are now on their way east from San Francisco.

While the reception this evening will be formal, the program itself will be characterized by a delightful simplicity. The artists are young women of charming personality, which finds ideal expression in their entertainments, one playing the Irish harp and all singing the songs that "come from the heart of the people," while they introduce occasionally the folk dances which are as full of simple grace as the music.

Mrs. Slaton's love of music and her generous patronage of the art have prompted a number of beautiful musical entertainments in her home, but the artistic reputation of the Misses Fuller promises that nothing more memorable than their recital has been provided by Governor and Mrs. Slaton for the delectation of their friends.

National President Burton To Address Drama League

At the regular meeting of the Drama league this afternoon President Burton, of the National Drama league, will lecture on George Bernard Shaw. President Burton is a brilliant speaker, who has held lectureships at several of the leading universities. His subject is especially timely, as the Drama league has had several Shaw plays read to it, among them "Fanny's First Play" and "Press Cuttings." There will be no fee to members, but they are asked to present membership cards.

Series of Entertainments For Convention Visitors

A series of entertainments will be given this week in compliment to the delegates to the Southern Supply and Machinery Dealers' association and their wives, the convention to open Wednesday with headquarters at the Piedmont hotel.

There will be fifty or sixty ladies at the convention, which will assemble probably 600 men, and the first entertainment will be a matinee party for the ladies at the Forsyth Wednesday. On Wednesday night a smoker will be held at the Piedmont hotel, at which there will be a variety of special features of amusement, and the ladies are invited.

An automobile party for the ladies has been arranged for Thursday afternoon, and afterwards they will be entertained at tea at the Driving club. Thursday night a ball will be given at the Capital City club, dancing to begin at 9 o'clock.

Friday afternoon there will be a tea-dance for the convention at Druid Hills club.

Mr. H. P. Nelson is general chairman of entertainments, and Mrs. Charles P. King is chairman of the committee of Atlanta ladies who will look after the entertainment of the visiting ladies.

Her committee includes Mrs. William MacDonald, Mrs. J. J. Dinsmore, Mrs. W. Dinkins, Mrs. J. Russell Porter, Mrs. Charles Porter, Mrs. Iris Stafford, Mrs. W. R. C. Smith, Mrs. Henry A. Coles, Mrs. E. D. West, Mrs. V. A. Moore and Mrs. H. P. Nelson.

Your Garden Opportunity

It's easy to make a good garden now when all conditions are favorable. Gardening is the most fascinating, pleasant, healthful and natural recreation. For direct returns there is simply nothing to compare with a well-planned and rightly-planted garden.

Plant Now

Beans, Beets, Carrots, Lettuce, Melons, Peas, Potatoes, Radishes, Squashes, Turnips, Tomatoes—in fact, practically any vegetable seeds that your taste or fancy may suggest—and be sure to allow for successive plantings of such table necessities as Beans, Lettuce, etc.

Save Time and Loss

Several weeks' time will be gained with Tomatoes, Eggplants and Pepper by setting out the fine, large, stocky, retransplanted plants that we have, and you will find our plants easy to handle this season. They are in boxes for you to take home without disturbing the roots.

Flowers and Bulbs, Also

Beautiful flowering plants—fine, large, healthy bulbs—flower seeds of the finer strains and best varieties. Don't overlook the liberal Free Flower Seed offer with each purchase of fifty cents or more of seeds. Our catalog will help you. Be sure to get your copy.

Cottolene—Unequalled for purity and wholesomeness

The shortening you use in cooking and baking should be as pure and wholesome as the food that is prepared with it.

Cottolene

is itself a pure, wholesome food, consisting of ultra-refined cottonseed oil—as fine as the choicest salad oil—and best stearine from selected leaf beef suet.

Cottolene is not "just as good" as other cooking and frying fats—it is better than any other—more nutritious, wholesome, digestible—better in every way.

Cottolene does not absorb tastes or odors. Heat it slowly and use it over and over for all kinds of frying.

Always use a third less of Cottolene than of any other shortening or frying fat. Arrange with your grocer for a regular supply.

To Our Fellow Citizens:

At the last election of an Ordinary for Fulton County, a majority of you selected the lamented John R. Wilkinson for that position. We, as his associates in office, also received your approbation, and we feel certain that it was then, and still is, your wish that we should serve for the full term of four years for which the ticket was elected.

The hand of Death has removed Judge Wilkinson, and unless you come to the polls once more, and ratify the trust you have reposed in us, we also will be deprived of the fruits of your generosity and thrown out of our positions nearly two years before the term expires.

We have tried to give you courteous and efficient service, and our record is open for your inspection. We believe there is no man in Fulton County more able or more beloved than Thomas H. Jeffries, who heads our ticket, and we take this means of asking that you remember that a vote for him is not only a tribute to his character and ability, but is also a stamp of approval on our services and a guarantee that we shall be permitted to complete the term for which you elected us.

On account of the increasing volume of business in the office of the Ordinary, Mr. Claud C. Mason, who is well and favorably known to you, will also be associated with us.

GEORGIA W. O. W. HOLDS BIENNIAL CONVENTION

1,200 Delegates Expected in Athens—The City Provides Much Entertainment.

Athens, Ga., April 12.—(Special.)—The Woodmen of the World in Georgia will meet in biennial convention here Tuesday morning to adjourn Thursday afternoon. Eight hundred camps over the state, with 30,000 members, are to be represented. The Woodmen circle, the woman's branch of the order, and the Uniformed Rank, the military branch, will also be represented. Twelve hundred visitors are expected, including several of the foreign camp officers from Omaha, Neb.; Jacksonville, Fla., and Houston, Texas.

The Georgia officers are: Head consul, Dr. F. S. Bonnell, Gainesville, Ga.; adviser, Dr. J. W. Simmons, Brunswick, Ga.; head banker, Mrs. Sophie Thomas circle, head clerk, E. M. Bass, Carrollton, Ga.; assistant head clerk, J. H. Balcom, Atlanta, Ga.; head escort, O. L. Williams, Macon, Ga.; head watchman, E. H. P. Ruland, Augusta, Ga.; head sentry, W. M. Ellerbee, Ga.

Head board of managers: J. R. Huff, Macon, Ga.; Dr. B. Allen, Americus, Ga.; A. M. Word, Rome, Ga.; J. W. Mann, Lizell, Ga.; W. P. Varner, Rutledge, Ga.

Delegates to sovereign camp: Dr. F. L. Rosenthal, Columbus, Ga.; H. H. Martin, Dawson, Ga.; L. C. Hoyt, Dawson, Ga.; W. R. Hewlett, Savannah, Ga.

Standing committees: Railroad and hotels, J. D. Severns, chairman, Athens, Ga.; E. R. Whittiney, Columbus, Ga.; H. A. Jolly, Carrollton, Ga., committee on legislation, W. J. Lewis, chairman, Dawson, Ga.; Rossie Lisles, Thomasville, Ga.; C. B. Nelson, Atlanta, Ga.

District managers and deputies: Colonel W. J. Simmons, 83 West Peachtree street, Atlanta, Ga.; W. H. Woodruff, Macon, Ga.; Charles G. Ziegler, Atlanta, Ga.; T. L. Bennett, Cartersville, Ga.; W. O. Clark, Savannah, Ga.; A. M. Calder, Brunswick, Ga.; R. L. Parks, Augusta, Ga.; J. S. Gerdy, Columbus, Ga.; George F. Chidsey, Rome, Ga.; John Maggin, Athens, Ga.; B. J. McMichael, Cordele, Ga.; T. M. Booth, Gainesville, Ga.; E. Moore, Swainsboro, Ga.; E. R. Stacy, Social Circle, Ga.; F. T. Johnson, Eastman, Ga., W. A. Davis, Toccoa, Ga.

Gala Week in Athens.

The local camp and circle have taken the week over to make it a typical spring festival occasion. Streets and a hundred stores are decorated, a twenty-show street carnival is in full blast; a great parade, with Woodmen, cadets, uniformed regiments, half a dozen bands and a string of decorated automobiles, will occur Tuesday. Tuesday night, with colored light procession, will be a feature with the conferring of the side degrees on the streets.

Four baseball games are scheduled for Georgia, with Alabama the first two days, and with Mississippi Agricultural and Mechanical the latter part of the week.

Dances and receptions and banquets are also scheduled and many features will add to the gayety of the week and the attendance of thousands of visitors.

Atlantans Off to Convention.

Over 300 Woodmen of the World, headed by State Manager Newton Phillips, will leave this morning by a special train to attend the biennial convention in Athens. On account of the many important questions which will come up at this convention, it is believed that delegates from every part of the state, numbering more than a thousand, will be in attendance.

The convention, which convenes this morning, will continue during the rest of the week. The elections of officers and delegates to the national convention, which meets in Jury at St. Paul, will be held Wednesday. Every effort will be made, according to Mr. Phillips, to have these six delegates instructed to bring the national biennial convention, which meets next in 1917, to Atlanta, if possible.

One of the features of the convention at Athens will be the participation in the ceremonies of R. B. Jewell, of Birmingham, sovereign advisor, and C. D. Mills, of Jacksonville, sovereign sentry. These are two of the highest officers of the national organization.

LEADING WITNESS IN ARSON HEARING SEVERELY GRILLED

William Barge, a negro, the main witness against S. D. Warren, charged with arson in the criminal superior court, Monday was subjected to a severe grilling by the attorney for the defense, Congressman William Schley Howard. The state's chief witness denied that he had ever made a confession to detectives in regard to the burning of the furniture store.

Warren is on trial for employing the negro to start the fire. S. D. Warren and E. J. Warren owned the store on Peters street. The place was burned on November 21, 1914, and several firemen narrowly escaped death from the explosion of gasoline. There was evidence of the gasoline having been poured on a lot of sawdust.

Barge told the police, so it was charged, that he had been instructed to set the store on fire and that he had, at the suggestion of S. D. Warren, bought ten gallons of gasoline, a gallon at a time at different places. He testified that it had been planned for him to place a lighted candle over the saturated gasoline, so it would ignite the sawdust between 3 and 4 o'clock, and that he accidentally set the sawdust on fire before time.

The cross-examination of the negro by Mr. Howard showed that the defense would set up that the negro committed the crime without any outside influence, and that he did so in order to revenge himself on his employers, who had suspected him of stealing, and had threatened to discharge him.

D. I. McIntire, an insurance expert, testified that the furniture has been insured for $10,500, when the stock was worth between $14,000 and $15,000, and that it could have been insured for its full value.

J. W. Walcott, another insurance man, said that Warren had asked him to place an additional policy of $1,000 on the stock a few days prior to the fire.

As there is a large number of witnesses to testify, the case will probably last two or three days longer.

JUDGE COX EXCHANGES BENCH WITH THOMAS

Pelham, Ga., April 12.—(Special.)—The April term of Mitchell superior court convened at Camilla this morning. Judge W. E. Thomas, of the southern circuit, is presiding, having exchanged courts with Judge E. E. Cox, who is holding court in Thomas county. Practically the entire day was spent in arranging the trial divorce cases.

Tomorrow and Wednesday will be devoted to the trial of civil business and the criminal docket will be taken up Thursday. The criminal docket is heavy and court will probably be in session for two weeks.

EPWORTH LEAGUE UNION TO MEET THIS EVENING

The Atlanta Epworth League union will hold its regular monthly meeting this evening at 8 o'clock at the Kirkwood Methodist church. The union, consisting of twenty-four enthusiastic chapters, is the largest league union in the Southern Methodist church.

After the business session a short program will be given by the Kirkwood leaguers. An interesting feature of the program will be the music rendered by the Kirkwood quartet.

Everyone will be given a most cordial welcome and these enthusiastic leaguers of Kirkwood are expecting a large delegation from the leagues of the

ENVIABLE POSITION IN MUSICAL WORLD HELD BY DAMROSCH

Walter Damrosch, leader of the New York Symphony orchestra, which will appear here in concert Saturday night at the Auditorium, under the auspices of the Alkahest Lyceum course, has continued for year after year at the head of this orchestra.

He is rightly called the dean of American orchestral conductors. His conductorship with the New York Symphony dates back thirty years. While his principal activities have been in New York city, his influence on the development of music has extended over the whole country, through which he has made innumerable tours as conductor of opera, symphony, oratorio and lecturer on musical subjects.

In January, of last year, Mr. Damrosch celebrated the anniversary of his fifty-second birthday. Forty-two years of his life have been spent in America. He has been active as an orchestral conductor since 1885. He conducted for nine years at the Metropolitan opera house. His conductorship of the Oratorio society continued for thirteen years, and for four years he was the musical director and conductor of the Damrosch Opera company, organized for the production of the Wagnerian music dramas over all the country.

VETO IS EXPECTED FOR BRICK PAVING

Mayor Will Probably Take Action Today Before Leaving for Toronto.

Before leaving Atlanta this afternoon with a delegation to the Toronto, Canadan, fair, Mayor Woodward is expected to formally place his veto on the measure recently passed by the council and aldermanic board providing for brick paving on South Pryor street.

"I am more convinced than ever, after visiting Athens Sunday and inspecting concrete paving there, that concrete will be the proper thing for Pryor street," said the mayor Monday. "Last year 17,000 yards of concrete paving was laid in Athens at a cost much less than brick, and by using Tarvia as a coating, it can be maintained at a cost of about 6 cents per year.

"By using concrete on Pryor street we will save several thousand dollars for the city and county. In Michigan last year forty-seven miles of concrete streets were laid and it has been adopted as the standard paving for the state.

"If every member of the general council would go to Athens, make an impartial investigation of the concrete paving, and return and cast their votes on the Pryor street matter, laying aside all bickerings and petty ward feelings, they would be unanimous for concrete."

The mayor would not say positively that he would veto the measure providing for brick, but did say that he would favor concrete, and believed council would ultimately agree on that material.

Accompanying the mayor on the Athens trip were Chairman Renfroe, of the street committee; Chairman Ashley, of the sanitary department, and Sym Hurt, chief of construction.

EMORY STUDENTS TO HOLD DEBATE ON PROHIBITION

A prohibition oratorical contest will be held in the Wesley Memorial church auditorium at 8 o'clock p. m. Friday. Much interest is centering in this contest. The five contestants are students of the Candler School of Theology of Emory university. These men have made an enviable record as orators in their respective colleges. The successful contestant will be chosen as the representative of the university in the Inter-Collegiate State Prohibition Oratorical Contest to be held at Mercer university, Macon, Ga., on the night of May 1. The general public is most cordially invited to be present at the preliminary oratorical contest in the Wesley Memorial building on the night of April 16.

NEGRO GAMBLERS ON "BLACK WAY" BETTING ON AUTOS

There is a new gambling game on Decatur street among the idling negroes as was shown in the police court Monday afternoon when Hess Taylor, a negro, was tried for loafing.

The game is to bet on the number of automobiles. One better says the number will be odd, while the other says that it will be even. The game is said to be fascinating and very popular, as it can be more easily carried on than craps or "skin" without police interference.

Taylor was fined and told to stop betting.

ALABAMA MEN LEASE NEW COLUMBUS HOTEL

Columbus, Ga., April 12.—(Special.)—The new nine-story Hotel Ralston was leased this afternoon to Charles A. Johnston, manager of the Exchange hotel, in Montgomery, and John J. Flowers, a retired capitalist, of Montgomery.

The date for the opening of the hotel has not been fixed, as there is still a little work to be done before it is finished. It is understood that Mr. Johnston will come to Columbus and manager the hotel.

THE GERMAN VIEW OF IT.

Apparently the German view of neutrality is something that will either benefit Germany or hand a jolt or a dig or both, to her enemies.

"You're not neutral!" says Germany to the United States, because it happens in the natural course of commerce, shipments of arms and munitions of war are made from ports of this country to those of the allied powers. And all the while German submarines are lurking in and about the English channel ready to send them to the bottom, regardless of the flag under which they travel.

The German note of protest against such shipments takes the position that inasmuch as it is impossible for Germany to get similar shipments from this country into her own ports, the United States should either prohibit such shipments to the allies or use possible prohibition as a club to compel England and France to lift the German blockade.

Here is the interesting meat of the German note:

> In reality the American industry is supplying only Germany's enemies, a fact which is in no way modified by the purely theoretical willingness to furnish Germany as well, if it were possible.

So, it's a case of "If I can't get it, you've got no right to let the other fellow take it." One might almost think from the German attitude that the United States shared responsibility for the blockade of German ports, whereas ours has been one of the strongest and loudest protests against it, at least as to non-contraband cargoes entering through neutral ports.

Suppose, for instance, the situation were reversed and German warships were maintaining a hard and fast blockade of French and English ports, and that Great Britain and France should demand that we should put an end to shipments of war munitions and other products into Germany in order to preserve neutrality? Would Germany acquiesce? Even in the light of the somewhat diverting German note, it is scarcely to be credited that she would!

With Germany's quarrel with England, France and Russia we have nothing whatever to do except bear the burden of the trade depression which, for a time, it forced upon us. To all the world, the belligerents included, we have said: "We have cotton, corn and wheat; we have plows and plowshares; we have even arms and war munitions and other products of factory, field and mill and mine; come and get them." Germany is included in the invitation; there is no country whose trade would prove more welcome.

The fact that Germany cannot avail herself of this opportunity is no fault of ours.

A BLESSING IN DISGUISE.

More than simply the loss of the academic building of the Third District Agricultural School near Americus is entailed in its recent destruction by fire. The fire not only swept out $20,000 of the institution's most important and valuable property, but has temporarily frustrated the plans and efforts of Principal J. L. McCollum for the further development of the school.

Constituting, in both respects, a serious loss, it came nevertheless at a time when it will be less felt in hampering the educational work of the institution, because there is opportunity for rebuilding it for the opening of the fall term; and it came under circumstances, with the school at the high tide of usefulness, when it must prove comparatively easy to raise the funds necessary for its replacement.

The people of the third district will rebuild it; there is not a doubt of that. Not only has this school developed and prospered in splendid service rendered, far in advance of many of the similar institutions, but it has proven itself, under the direction of Superintendent McCollum, worth many times the amount of the loss in the definite and substantial achievement which it has wrought.

Professor McCollum is the only one of the principals of all the eleven district agricultural schools in the state who has remained steadily with the institution since its organization. Under his able management and direction it has grown and produced results far beyond original expectations, so much so that press and other competent critics have commented frequently and voluntarily upon the remarkable progress made and the character of the work he has done.

Recently the trustees of the Third District Agricultural School recognized the splendid quality of his service by unanimous resolution, and citizens have taken it upon themselves to write letters and send out circulars commendatory of his work. The feeling regarding Mr. McCollum within the district is well expressed by The Perry Home Journal, which said of him:

> The Third District Agricultural School is doubtless the most successful of the eleven district schools in Georgia and good management is the cause. The principal, Professor J. M. McCollum, is a thoroughly competent man, and his heart is in his work. It has not been his purpose to teach textbook theory, but to apply proven theories to productive practice. The school is worthy of patronage of all who desire their sons and daughters to learn the practice as well as the theories of education.

If the sentiment regarding Superintendent McCollum throughout the district means anything, it means that its people will get back of him at once and to the full extent necessary in replacing immediately the destroyed academic building.

As deplorable as this loss to the institution must seem, it will no doubt in the end prove to be a blessing in the permanent enrichment of the institution.

THE GERMAN SEA ROVERS.

The careers of the determined and heroic German sea rovers—any one of them—carry us back to the swashbuckling days of the Spanish main, to the Jean Barts and to the career of our own commerce-destroying Alabama. It is largely a difference of better ships, better guns, better ammunition; cut out the improvements in machinery and it's simply a case of history's repetition, perhaps with heroism multiplied.

The ancient privateersman, with his stone-throwing catapult to batter in the sides to trireme commerce, lives in history. We have written romance after romance around the corsair and his crude muzzle-loading six-pounder; but what shall we say of the Emden that sank her two-score and more of merchant ships before superior force drove her upon the Indian coast, a battered wreck? What of the Scharnhorst, the Gneisenau, the Dresden and their consorts that sank a British armored fleet and preyed on commerce in the southern seas until England sent out a force capable of quickly pounding them to the bottom? What of the German admiral who went down with his fleet rather than surrender even when his ship was sinking? What of those doughty converted cruisers, Prince Eitel Friedrich and Kronprinz Wilhelm, that slipped into Norfolk with their "well-notched gun-butts" in the very teeth of hostile warships, any one of which might have made short work of them? And the list is not yet complete; there's still the Karlsruhe and the fleet of fearless, death-courting submarines that know no limit to intrepidity but achievement at whatever cost.

It will remain for history to tell in all its vivid coloring the story of these heroic German raiders who plied and swept the seas, careless of the fact that there were enemies close at hand capable of pouring into them hundreds of thousands of tons of steel and bursting shell, and generations will read of it fifty, a hundred years away with even greater interest than we of today. Ancient and mediaeval heroism would seem to pale beside the dashing intrepidity of these modern rovers of the sea who, in the teeth of almost certain death, sent down a dozen ships where their prototypes sank one. It was the difference in machinery, but the same bravery, the same thoughtlessness of death for fatherland was there, multiplied, if anything, to many times.

We shall not attempt to explain why humanity that loves a daring fight wants age to season it; but we will predict that when so seasoned through coming years, the German sea rover of today will live, a large and dominating figure in history's romance told but not yet written.

These loud rumors of peace are enough to wake the janitor of The Hague palace from his long sleep.

JUST FROM GEORGIA

By Frank L. Stanton

The Glory of the Day.

I.

Joy thick as wildflowers on the way,
Hope in each thrilling minute,
To breathe the glory of the day
And thank the Lord you're in it!

I wonder if the worlds above
Have all this light and all this love?

II.

The valley hears the hill's heart beat,
To brightest love-dreams given,
Green fields, and picnic-places sweet
For fluttering hosts of heaven;
To this loved earth, from far away,
The angels come to spend the day.

III.

Joy of the wildwoods and the streams—
Where'er Love's gentle will is,
There is no mystery of dreams—
We read them in the lilies.
Life that is joy—high-crowned endeavor,
And Love that lights life's way forever.

From an Author's Journal.

A little farm on the side, hands to grip the plow handles and patience with the mule, and literature isn't such a tough proposition after all.

Spring authors, summer authors and autumn authors are all one and the same. Only reason they call 'em by different names is because they want to make the reading public think they're getting something new.

It seems to us that the average author gets to Oblivion fast enough without investing in airships and speeding autos; but some think that the world won't turn to look at them unless they get all the air of burning the woods and the wind.

Then and Now.

There's still a Grub Street section,
As the critical allow,
But the author of old garrets
Takes quite elevator now.

And the bailiff, roused from slumber
On the old pine box serene,
Has to race to get the number
Of his speeding limousine.

But the old-time garret author
Wrote his light as said,
When his task was dodging bailiffs
And digging deep for bread.

The "Widow's Son" Issue.

Of an "issue" raised by a correspondent of The Waycross Journal-Herald, The Albany Herald says:

"He talks on Sunday laws and the like, the issue being whether to allow a widow's son to sell papers on Sunday, or whether to stop the same widow's son from selling papers on Sunday, thereby depriving the said widow's son's mother from her usual sustenance."

New Note in Advertising.

Here is a brand-new lesson in advertising from The Rogers (Ark.) Democrat:

"Tom Patton, sedate and prim, had an arm that was long and slim. But never had that arm been placed around a girl's enticing waist. So one day Tom buzz up a sign: 'No one's hug so tight as mine.' And the moon was shining very bright when Tom took his home that night. So those who constantly are wise see the point and advertise."

No Hope for Us.

"Sometimes," says the philosopher of The Ohio State Journal, "a man will get up in the morning feeling just as young as he used to be and then, first thing he knows, he notices how much more sensitive the top of his head is to the air currents than it was only a few short years ago."

The Kaiser's Wardrobe.

(From The London Chronicle.)

The Kaiser's enormous wardrobe extends only to the top layers of apparel, according to the intimate disclosures made by the author of "The Private Lives of William II. and His Consort." In the matter of shirts he is stated to be restricted to the historical half dozen of the Hohenzollern house, and even these are innocent of cuffs, a commodity William attaches with the aid of buttons and pulleys, "like any poor lieutenant." Of socks also "never above a dozen pairs are in use," though there is no limit to handkerchiefs. But the outer garments, which could equip the marines of a first-class battleship or the officers of ten army corps, are contrasted with Frederick the Great's wardrobe, "sold to an old clothes man for 399 thalers."

A CERTAIN HUMAN RELATION.

(From Collier's Weekly.)

An old law Latin proverb, to the effect that "he who sticks in the letters sticks in the bark," is a neat description of much present-day discussion of marriage. In these books, plays and tracts we get everything but the essentials of the matter. The ideal of marriage is not a technically equated and adjusted contract from which either of the parties can withdraw with the least possible loss. That would not be an ideal, but merely and expedient. Matrimony is nothing unless it is everything, unless it is based on "the uncompelled attraction of souls made free." Marriage as a worldly matter is not very important. It is important only when those contracting care less about their own advantage than about their chance to live and prove themselves in duty and faithfulness and honor. If a husband and wife are not united to help one another in the war that time wages against the human soul, then they are not united at all, and it matters little what happens to their experiment in living double. The state and the churches are less interested in marriage as a decent and practical method of increasing the population than as the only way yet discovered of enlisting the strongest passions of the race on the side of order and faith. A society which does not achieve this will fail. Those who consider it only from the standoint of selfish single people do not understand, the truth is for those who care to see.

A MAN-POWER RAILROAD.

The railroad that pays the biggest dividends on the capital invested is, according to the Technical World Magazine, the Grand Island railroad. It is in northern Alberta, Canada, 200 miles from any trunk line or feed. It is only a quarter of a mile long and built of scrap iron on wooden rails. Its rolling stock consists of two battered freight cars, pushed and pulled by hand by the men who ship the freight, no locomotive being used.

The freight that is handled on this road consists principally of furs, which are towed up the Athabaska river on scows hauled by men, are laden on the cars, pushed down the railroad and shipped again on other scows, thereby circumventing the dangerous Grand Rapids. Returning, the scows carry all sorts of freight for the Hudson Bay company's factors and are floated down the river. The Hudson Bay company charges $2.50 a ton for all freight on this little railroad, and the shipper must handle his own goods and push the cars himself.

SCIENCE AND THE SAILOR.

(From The Milwaukee Sentinel.)

Science has done little for the sailor. Vessels are faster, but no stouter than a century since, and water-tight compartments are confined as a rule to warships. Iron vessels go down before the fury of the gale just as of yore, and the wooden craft are at the mercy of every storm. When the crew take to the boats, one-half go to feed the fishes, the boats are few in number and poorly provisioned, and drift for days and weeks, until they perish from hunger, thirst and exposure, or are cast away on a desert island to suffer and die for months on uninhabited islands are not so few in number as might be supposed. The Crozet islands, in the Indian ocean, almost within sight of civilization, are famous as the home of shipwrecked crews. Many of these far southern island are out of the track of ships, and castaways might live on them for years without being discovered.

THE FUTURE MAN.

(From The Ohio State Journal.)

When one goes way back to the cave man or beyond him to the time when man walked on all fours and slept in a tree, and then reflects upon what man is now, he is apt to imagine what sort of a creature he will be hundreds of centuries hence. Some of us who believe in the theory of man's evolution accord to him an angelic form and grace, as far ahead of the present man as he is ahead of his prehensile progenitors.

But now comes a scientist who suggests that the future evolution of the human race may develop lips like the bill of a pelican. A circumstance that suggests this change is the use of these bubbling fountains by the children, which has a tendency to produce protruding lips. What else goes with these protruding lips the scientist does not say, but if they add to the fishing efficiency he must have wings for that, and wings we would all like to have.

GORILLA GOES FOR OUTING.

(From The New York Herald.)

Thousands of children and grown-ups as well who went to the Bronx Zoological park yesterday were delighted when it was announced that Dinah, the African gorilla, which had been the object of wonder because of her great intelligence, had entirely recovered from an attack of pneumonia. Wrapped in warm furs and lying comfortably in a large perambulator, Dinah had her usual two hours' airing yesterday. Fred Bostock, gleholm, who has nursed the famous animal throughout her long illness, wheeled her about the park.

Dinah, said to be the only gorilla now in captivity, was obtained last year by Richard L. Garner in the Fernan Vaz district, French Congo territory, west Africa. She reached New York August 21.

PRZEMYSL SOUNDS LIKE "PZHEM-ISL."

(From The New York Sun.)

The correct pronunciation of Przemysl, the name of the Galician fortress which the Russians have just taken, is somewhat as follows, with stress on "zem;" "Shem-a-zil," with the accent on the first syllable, or "Shaymeez-il," with the "meez" accented. Another "official" pronunciation is "Pshem-is-ul," given by a man who was born in the town, calls it Shemish, with accent on the first syllable and the last "h" almost silent.

MADE IN U. S. A.

(From The Providence Journal.)

A contemporary asks: "Shall Made in U. S. A." declaring that the proper legend should be "Made in U. S." This is what Mr. Roosevelt would call a "finely technical" opinion. Moreover, it is a critical time when three initials are officially recognized as standing for United States Army, this critic reminds us. Accordingly, "Made in U. S. A. upon anything would mean that it was manufactured in the army."

Well, who would think so, even if the initials do mean that? It would be difficult, at any rate, to check the spread of "Made in U. S. A."—it has got too good a start. No great harm will be done if anybody is foolish enough to suppose that articles so advertised are the product of the army shops. The remote possibility of such a confusion seems incompetent, immaterial and irrelevant.

Besides, U. S. A. are quite the proper initials for the United States, if also for the army of the United States. The preamble of the constitution reads as follows: "We . . . do ordain and establish this constitution of the United States of America." That ought to settle it.

OLD-TIME RUSE IN FLAG-FLYING.

(From The London Chronicle.)

An effective ruse de guerre in the way of flag-flying was that practiced in the Mediterranean at the beginning of the last century by Lord Dundonald while cruising in the British ship Speedy. This little brig had captured so many of the enemy's merchantmen that a Spanish frigate was specially fitted out, disguised as a merchantman, to bring her to book. Dundonald, in order to deceive the merchant craft of the enemy, adopted similar tactics, and disguised the Speedy as a Spanish merchant brig. The two disguised boats soon sighted each other. Dondonald at once gave chase, and dis overed his mistake when the Spaniard suddenly hauled to her proper colors, and instead of firing a boat to examine the Speedy's papers. But Dundonald was equal to the occasion. He hoisted the yellow flag—signal of sickness—and when the Spanish boat was within hail an English officer in Danish uniform shouted that they were only two days of Algiers. As the ruse was rapidly in Algiers, the ruse was completely successful.

"HELP WIN THE WAR."

(From The Cleveland Plain Dealer.)

Housewives in one of the countries now at war have been given twenty rules by the observance of which they may help win the war." Their purpose is to teach thrift in the use of foodstuffs so that if the worst comes their country may not be threatened with starvation. It is conservation of a highly utilitarian kind.

America is happily not at war, though the efforts of war are felt on every hand. The "official" pronunciation of food, though prices are higher than we wish they were. Yet nations abroad, checked in their productive activities, are putting an unusual strain upon American food resources, and it may be worth while, even in this land of peace and comparative plenty, to give thought to food conservation.

Housewives of the United States, like those abroad, may "help win the war," and, by the same method. It is not to be a war against fellow human beings, but against the great prices and possibly growing scarcity—a war to keep decent living within the means of the average limited purse.

DANGER IN EASY FRENCH.

(From The New York Tribune.)

Rumors of a steamer on fire sixty miles off Sandy Hook caused excitement in shipping circles yesterday. The French line cargo vessel Champlain, inbound from Bordeaux, sent in a wireless to the company's office stating that she was passing the Fire Island lightship.

"Lightship" in French, the language in which the message was sent, is "bateau-feu," meaning literally "ship of fire." Someone whose knowledge of French was attained in six easy lessons got hold of the marconigram and translated it to mean that the Champlain was passing a "ship on fire."

The mistake was rectified before the Champlain reached her pier.

THE RIGHT KIND OF PLUCK.

(From The Arkansas Gazette.)

Texarkana will raise a quarter of a million dollars to secure new factories. This is the kind of pluck that will bring industrial conditions back to normal in this country in spite of war.

THE INTELLIGENT DUCK.

(From The Arkansas Gazette.)

Ozark people are puzzled over a white duck that lays a black egg. This duck evidently knows that the mysteries which interest human minds most are the darkest ones.

PROPHETS.

By George Fitch,
Author of "At Good Old Siwash."

A prophet is a man who is able to say "I told you so," and prove it.

He is a man who wears his hindsight before; who is able to read the future as readily as if it were a Walt Mason prose poem; who can write a book of interesting history beginning with the day after next year and can then sit around at ease waiting for time to catch up with him.

Prophets are as old as history but have been steadily deteriorating for thousands of years. In biblical times there were great prophets who could only tell what was going to happen in the next generation but would linger along and see that it came true. Nowadays, however, about the best a prophet can do is to put his prophecies a long way ahead and live on his reputation, discreetly retiring from politics before history hands him the cruel, raucous ha ha.

A batting average of .001 is very good for a modern prophet. Still, people are very easily satisfied nowadays. If a prophet makes 1,000 guesses and one of them comes true he rises to great honor and his book goes into the eleventh edition in two weeks.

There are three kinds of prophets today, those who prophesy for revenue only, those who are in a state of continual shudder over what is going to happen in 1920, and those who are trying to figure out whether the public can stand them in office another term. Joe Cannon, Bill McKinley and Charles Curtis are the greatest American prophets today. They came out of the cyclone cellar last year and ran for election on the republican ticket. Senators Burton, Root and others who retired to said cyclone cellars, just after the storm blew over, should take a correspondence course in plain and fancy forecasting.

The greatest war of history broke loose last year, but very few prophets were on the job. Madame de Thebes, of Paris, was the only one who discovered it heading in from the dim mists of the future, and as she has been prophesying for practically the last twenty years anyway she was bound to win if her health and endurance held out.

Most of our modern prophets are engaged in trying to discover which way the pie is cut. RIPPLING RHYMES

TOILING ON.

We are evermore forgetting that our stay on earth is brief, and we waste the time in fretting, hunting for all kinds of grief; making moan about the weather, magnifying every ill, as we toil along together to the boneyard on the hill. All our little griefs make money on the price of things tomorrow are not the men who pry into the future with a jimmy and find out they are the men who manufacture the said prices today.

The Holland Letter

Thomas W. Lamont might have narrated to the public service commission at Albany as interesting and remarkable a story associated with modern financing as could be told when, a few days ago, he appeared before that board advocating approval for the issue of $100,000,000 of bonds which are to enable the credit and some of the resources of the New York Central Railroad Company. Mr. Lamont, however, confined himself chiefly to one point, and that involved the jurisdiction of fixing the rate of interest upon these bonds at 6 per cent. The whole story of modern financing, and especially international financing, and the economic reasons which explain these transactions, lies behind Mr. Lamont's brief statement to the public service commission that as some of the nations across the sea are compelled to pay as much as 6 per cent, or even more, for accommodations which they have secured in the United States, therefore it is inevitable that a security of the kind which the New York Central proposes issuing should, if it is to be financed at all, bear practically the same interest rate which the securities of other nations marketed in this country bear.

The proposed mortgage itself is the penultimate ranks with some of the greatest ever issued by a railroad company at one time. Some idea of the size of the largest single mortgage offered by a railroad company, but the mere figures and the brief statement of Mr. Lamont that the competition for funds into which the railroad company has entered serves to establish a rate of interest are really only parts of the extraordinary story. Mr. Lamont is one of the younger partners in the house of J. P. Morgan & Co. There are some reasons for inferring that when the management of the New York Central worked out a problem whose solution involved the unification of the railroad properties and the securities of its various subordinate companies could be brought actually and legally into a single family, the very complicated problem involved in the unification from the financial point of view was committed to Mr. Lamont. All sorts of complications were to be overcome. Thirty years ago, when after the late Frederick H. Prince, who had gained a great reputation as a reorganizer and also vast profits for the institution of which he was president, confessed himself unable to untangle the knot identified both with the Richmond Terminal Company, the task was committed to the late Mr. Coster of J. P. Morgan firm. He untangled it after a struggle and the system was accordingly reorganized. Presumably Mr. Lamont found himself face to face with as many and as serious difficulties as Mr. Coster faced when, of course, the purpose was to unify and not to make it more entirely diffuse. The creation of an issue of $100,000,000 bonds is one of the results of the long, patient and intense study which was given to basic questions and by Mr. Lamont to big problems.

Substantially United.

The Lake Shore Railroad Company and the New York Central are now substantially united. And by there will be other securities although not actually issued by the label or competing lines, such, for instance, as the Michigan Central, of which the Vanderbilts are the owners, but which is as graphically necessary to lend the New York with the Lake Shore. In fact, it was with that competition in view when, after John M. Forbes, of Boston, completed the Michigan Central, he was compelled to go to New York capital built the Lake Shore and carried that to Chicago. Competition between these two lines was brutal, and would have led to bankruptcy had not Mr. Forbes suggested the pool and thereby saved the two systems.

When the purposes of the New York Central—that is, the purposes of its managers—are justified by the true economies which unification makes possible—are established and which other and even greater financing than that which is reflected by the proposed $100,000,000 issue will be necessary—it is probable that the dodging of Mr. Lamont with this work will furnish another example that the new generation of bankers is equal to the old. Mr. Lamont's position which, numbered among its members some of the world's great financiers and constructive intellects.

Americans bankers who are familiar with the money markets of London think that forty years ago used to say that John Bull could stand almost anything, but he would not stand 2 per cent. Nevertheless he did not yield to better than 2 per cent, and something which England regarded as an absurd financial proposition. Recently nations have come to the United States with the sentiment expressed in the statement that John Bull would not stand the 2 per cent is also a sentiment which its spokesmen in the British government, probably the English treasury, at this time England will not look with complacency upon the marketing of her securities in the United States upon a 6 per cent basis. England is not going to be compelled to pay as much that for money. To pay 6 per cent seems to be an implied imputation upon her credit although it is not. There are those in Russia and other nations are willing to pay 6 per cent or more if the rate which profitmongers in financial transactions think which stands France or Russia is at least 2 per cent that establishes the market. Nobody knows better than England that she is justified in knowing, whether or not there is a little friction in London just now respecting, that 4 per cent is the rate which skilled reports have come in which the intimations are strong that there is small firm. But if it exists it is probably due to the fact that the same John Bull who in the course of events will not stand 2 per cent now is reluctant to stand 6 per cent.

President Elliott and President Kingsley.

In the address recently delivered by Howard Elliott at Norwich, Conn., he was quoted as advocating the establishment of transportation under the federal government, and as varied state regulations. The life insurance railroads. President Elliott is regarded in financial and railroad circles as significantly justifying the choice made of him largely on the recommendation of Theodore N. Vail, a successor of Charles S. Mellen in the presidency of the New Haven railroad system. It is said today in Wall street that Elliott was going to achieve success, and when he said that the New Haven Railroad company must be free to exercise its managing authority and also as one in whom the people of New England have confidence. President Elliott's words cut the salvation of the New Haven system he will have achieved one of the greatest triumphs which any man can win in the ranks of a railroad manager. He knew he took a desperate chance when he accepted the presidency, yielding his comfortable post as president of the Northern Pacific to do that.

President Elliott's proposition that a department of transportation be established at Washington is in line with the recommendation made a year or so ago by President Darwin P. Kingsley, who is president of the largest life insurance company of the world. He, too, believes that it is not only expedient, but will become imperative, that the federal government take over the supervision and regulation of the life insurance companies, thereby relieving the companies of the embarrassments caused by many and varied state regualtions. The life insurance companies of the United States are doing a national, even international, business. They are responsible for insurance in excess of twenty billions and the aggregate figures which tell of their resources, their total and their yearly business can be compared for magnitude only with the figures compiled made in the clearing-house association of New York city. It is spoken of as a highly suggestive fact that a railroad president of the authority of Howard Elliott and a life insurance president of the authority of Darwin P. Kingsley should be of the same mind respecting the exercise of federal authority over the railroad and the life insurance business of the United States, departmental authority instead of commission authority.

HOLLAND.

ANDERSON QUITS ORDINARY'S RACE

Hamilton Douglas Declines to Run—Hammond, Donehoo, Jeffries and Winn Have Announced.

Announcements from Marcellus Anderson and Hamilton Douglas that they will not be in the race for ordinary to succeed the late Judge John R. Wilkinson were the chief developments of Monday.

The candidates who have so far announced are Thomas H. Jeffries, deputy clerk of the superior court; Courtland S. Winn, former mayor; Paul Donehoo, coroner, and W. R. Hammond, ex-Judge of the city court.

Neither Judge Hammond, Mr. Winn nor Mr. Donehoo has yet announced his ticket.

County Attorney E. E. Pomeroy, answering a request from Tax Collector A. P. Stewart, has given it as his opinion that the qualification of voters for the election will be as follows:

Qualification of Voters.

"All persons who were registered for the last general election and all persons who shall register from the time of such general election until five days after the said of said special election, unless otherwise disqualified by law, shall be entitled to vote.

"The tax officer shall close his voters book five days after the call for the special election, and shall, within five days thereafter, file with the county ordinary an accurate and complete list of all names signed in the voters book since the close of said book for the last general election. This contemplates a supplemental list of the additional names.

"Any person who shall have paid his taxes up to the time of the closing of the book for the special election, may register and vote in this election, provided this taxes up to and including the year 1914 have been paid. No person's name shall be left on the list for the last general election unless he shall have paid his 1914 taxes, assuming that the call of the election was made on April 10, you should close your voters' book on the night of April 15, when your office closes for business, and five days thereafter file your supplemental list with the registrars.

Mr. Douglas' Announcement.

The announcement of Mr. Douglas in deciding not to enter the race follows:

"To the Public: After careful consideration has been given by me to your request that I enter the race out of respect to Mr. matured conclusion, formed on my initiative alone, I cannot take this step at this time.

"This is a judicial office. Beyond question it should be filled by a lawyer. But this election is more than that. Factions and politicians are organized and have every advantage of a party. They are not willing to barter and deal in the patronage of this high office for the selfish party support.

"Under these circumstances, my duties to my profession, independently to the law school, absolutely preclude my candidacy at this time.

"I could be less than human were I not deeply touched by your solicitation. Personally am I honored by the many offers of support from those best able to judge my comings and qualifications from having been associated with me in the closest kind of the study of wills and the administration of estates.

"I shall always cherish this evidence of esteem.

Sincerely yours,

"HAMILTON DOUGLAS."

Mr. Anderson's Statement.

Marcellus Anderson makes the following statement:

"To the People of Fulton County: Since the death of the late Judge John R. Wilkinson, I have had the solicitation of friends throughout the county to enter the race for ordinary to fill the unexpired term. There have been two or more meetings of my friends at which they urged their long service in case I made the race.

"I have given careful consideration to the matter, and feel that in the main my friends that I now make a statement of my intention.

"At the last regular election I was a candidate against Judge Wilkinson, and it is true that I was defeated by only a small majority. Since every friend Judge Wilkinson himself does not serve out his term, still the ticket each one with him are entitled to serve out the term to which they were elected, with both were elected, I shall therefore not be a candidate for ordinary at this time.

"I wish, however, to take this opportunity to express my grateful thanks to the hundreds of friends who have so kindly tendered their support and to say to them that I shall always remember their loyalty and endeavor to repay them in kind. Very respectfully,

MARCELLUS ANDERSON."

$27,000,000 NOTE ISSUE BY NEW HAVEN RAILWAY

New York, April 12.—A syndicate of New York and Boston banking houses has purchased from the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad $27,000,000 one-year 5 per cent notes. The proceeds, together with $5,000,000 cash from the railroad company's treasury, will be used on May 1 to pay off $20,000,000 5 per cent collateral notes of the New Haven and $10,000,000 5 per cent notes of the Harlem river and Port Chester railroad, guaranteed by the New Haven. The collateral back of these notes consists largely of stocks and securities of the New Haven road having a valuation in excess of $40,000,000.

Editor Nelson Unconscious.

Kansas City, April 12.—William R. Nelson, editor of The Kansas City Star, who is suffering from uraemic poisoning, has been unconscious since last Thursday afternoon, his physicians announced today. Mr. Nelson is 74 years old. He has been confined to his home since December.

Arizona Cowboy Hunts Armory To Join in Military Pageant

Two dozen voices in full chorus, accompanied by W. Whitney Hubner's orchestra, were filling the Auditorium-Armory with minstrel song Monday night, rehearsing for the artillery pageant at the Atlanta theater next Thursday night, when into the barrack rooms strode a husky, swarthy-faced, six-foot individual, about two feet broad across the chest, and in typical western cowboy costume.

He told the guardsmen who crowded around him how he happened to seek the Auditorium-Armory on Monday night. His name was "Arizona Al"—at least that was all he was known by—and he just happened to be in Atlanta for a few days on business venture when he noticed in the newspapers about the minstrel-military pageant which Battery B of the national guard of Georgia will give next Thursday.

"When I saw the pictures of you artillery fellers and heard about the stunt you're tryin' to do so's you could go to San Francisco and see the exposition, I just had an old longing to help you out," he said.

A shout of approval went up from the artillery boys. They immediately began to ask him about what "stunts" he could do, and he answered that he couldn't do much except fancy horse riding, sharpshooting and some lasso stunts.

"Huh! for you. We'll let you go the limit, even to lassoing the baldheads in the audience, if you want to," replied one of the artillery officials.

So it was then and there arranged "Arizona Al" goes on the program next Thursday night for his expert cowboy stunts that are likely at least to keep the baldheads dodging.

CLUBS OF ATLANTA ARE OBEYING LAW

The whisky is paid for by members before ordered, and the club charges a small service fee to serve their drinks.

Put Clubs Out of Business.

F. A. Pittman, president of the M. & M. club, when asked about the top floor of the Candler building, said:

"If Chief Beavers and Mr. Mayson insist that the locker clubs of the city comply with the letter of the law, which the M. & M. club is not now doing, nor any other club in the city, according to my belief, it will mean that the M. & M. club will go out of business."

"At present all legitimate locker clubs in Atlanta are operating at a loss to legitimate clubs. I mean those clubs whose members pay dues to belong to the club, where they might drink if they so desired.

"The M. & M. club is complying with the spirit of the locker club law, and the city ordinance put it, with a full knowledge that our club and all other clubs, order at stock of whisky for all its members and that every member is served out of this stock.

"I have just received Chief Beavers' note and have had no time to consult the board of directors, which will not meet for several days.

"In March when Chief Beavers closed down the cellars of the locker clubs on Sunday the M. & M. club financial sheet showed a loss for the month of $90, on account of this order of the chief. If he now seeks to enforce the letter of the locker club law it will be impossible for any locker club to operate as every legitimate locker club is now losing money.

"There are clubs in the city which operate for revenue, according to the belief of many people. I do not think these clubs ought to be allowed to exist."

Dr. Brown's Statement.

Dr. George M. Brown, head of the Atlanta club, which occupies the top floor of the Candler building, said:

"I have not received notification from Chief Beavers, but understand from the newspapers that he has mailed me a letter. I cannot change the method of operation of the Atlanta club in the dispensing of drinks to its members.

"I will read the letter when I receive it, and ask him to call me at the Atlanta club, and offer to meet him and discuss the matter. I do not believe, though, that Beavers will be fair with the method of operation of the Atlanta club."

Letter of Beavers.

The chief's letter to the nineteen locker clubs is clear cut, and there is no room for any misunderstanding of his intent of closing down all clubs who do not comply with the strict letter of the law governing locker clubs. In the letter he refers to the construction the city attorney has placed on the locker club ordinance of the city, and also that of the court of appeals on the state locker club law.

The letter reads as follows:

"I am of the opinion that the locker clubs of the city are violating the law, and, owing to the fact that they have been operating under the local option law, in vogue for several years, I think it but fair and just to you and your club to notify you that after May 1, 1915, I will do my best to enforce this law, as it is construed by the city attorney.

"I do not believe it is necessary that the clubs in our city should violate the prohibition law. The city ordinance prescribes that they shall be run in such a manner as not to violate this law, and I hope that it will not be necessary to go into the courts to adjust this matter.

"Trusting that you will bring this notice to the attention of your board of trustees or governors or one, so that there will be no misunderstanding in this matter.

Chief Beavers declined to reporters Monday that his letter meant just what it said.

"All clubs," said the chief, "that have been selling drinks to its members will have to stop it on May 1. My information is to the effect that all clubs that are now selling drinks to members. After May 1 every member who gets a drink in his club must get it from his own individual locker, and the club must have a supply in his own locker to get it from.

"I am going to see that this law is rigidly enforced."

Has Conducted Probe.

Chief Beavers has had special officers investigating locker clubs for several weeks. The information he secured by these officers led him to send the notice to the clubs.

City Attorney Mayson Monday issued the following construction of the city ordinance governing locker club law:

"The city ordinance simply undertakes to require that a club shall be conducted without a bona fide membership, paying bona fide dues, instead of a club operating for revenue and for the benefit of club as a club or subterfuge.

"There is no better construction of the state locker club law than that handed down by the court of appeals. The club that is honestly organized to observe this law that feature that is of importance to it is the advantage of the decision dealing with the matter of ordering and serving intoxicants to members.

Order for Joint Use.

"The club officials require a order, or a group of members, to order a supply of intoxicants for his or their joint use, and to agree to such disposition, each man paying for the portion of the drink that is drunk, or a reasonable part of the whole cost. The club may furnish the glasses, ice and other necessaries for the drink, but it is no violation of the law to employ a man, or agents, to make the distribution and pay him for the service rendered in this respect.

"The books of the various members or group of members ordered by the club for them must be kept separate and apart from supplies of intoxicants on hand for other members, and for the public generally. The whisky must also be ordered from outside of the state.

"The club may serve to a member, from day to day, drinks from his own private stock and may charge him for the service, but cannot be served from the supply of any other member or members.

"The title to the whisky ordered by the club as an agent for the members must be in the name of the member who receive the whisky.

"In short, the court of appeals decision simply requires that whisky served to a member of a club shall be his property, kept separately from that of other members, and that no member shall be served from the stock of another member."

Chief Beavers, before issuing his mandate to the locker clubs again, did not consult any of the members of the police board of commissioners.

Commissioner Chairman W. P. Fain, when asked on this point, stated that he was surprised at the chief issuing such an order to the locker clubs without saying anything to him.

FIVE GOVERNORS NAME DIRECTORS

tanooga conference, as one of the state's representatives, and George G. Harff, of Cincinnati, as the other.

Florida Appointments Today.

Governor Park Trammell, of Florida, announced that he will make his appointments today.

The following telegram to The Constitution from Governor James B. McCreary, of Kentucky, announces his appointments and sets forth his position in regard to the action of the governors at Chattanooga:

"The Constitution:- Kentucky's two directors of the Dixie highway are Hon. Harry Hanger, of Richmond, Ky., and Hon. Claude Mercer, of Hardinsburg, Ky.

"I shall continue to comply with the resolutions adopted at Chattanooga by the governors and by the people, and I believe the directors authorized to be appointed by the respective governors should meet as early as possible and actively take steps to locate the Dixie highway.

(Signed) "JAMES B. M'CREARY, "Governor."

Directors Already Named.

The appointees of the other governors are as follows:

Governor Ralston, of Indiana, has appointed Thomas Taggart, democratic national committeeman, and Carl G. Fisher, of Indianapolis, millionaire sportsman and prime mover in the Lincoln highway movement.

Governor Rye, of Tennessee, has appointed Judge M. M. Allison, of Chattanooga, and Colonel A. M. Shook, of Nashville.

Governor Slaton, of Georgia, announced at the Chattanooga conference the appointment of W. D. Anderson, of Macon, and Clark Howell, of Atlanta.

As soon as the governors of Florida and Illinois have made their appointments, the board of fourteen directors, two from each state, to select the route of the highway, will be complete. In some sections the impression seems to prevail that the directors from each state will have the privilege of making the selection in their respective states. Such, however, is not the case. The resolution adopted at the conference provided that the entire commission shall select the entire route, each director having equal vote in all the states in the selection of the route.

Don't Pray for Peace, Advice of Dr. C. W. Eliot To Baptist Preachers

Boston, April 12.—Charles W. Eliot, president emeritus of Harvard university, declared at a meeting of Baptist ministers today that the present was no time to pray for peace, especially a peace at any price. A sudden termination of the European conflict would not civilization back several centuries, Dr. Eliot said.

Replying to a question, the speaker expressed the opinion that ministers should not remain neutral when their ideals of civilization were being smashed.

BURGLAR CHASED BY DARING WOMAN

Undaunted by His Threat to Use His Revolver, Mrs. S. H. Dillard Continues Pursuit of Intruder.

That burglars have no terrors for Mrs. S. H. Dillard, of 286 Houston street, was proved yesterday afternoon when she gave chase to a negro who had entered her house, and continued her pursuit even after he had threatened to use his revolver.

Mrs. Dillard was sitting on her front porch about 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon when she was attracted by the loud barking of her dog in the back yard. Going through the house to investigate, she heard the door slam, and saw a negro running toward a neighbor's yard with a screaming white dog in chase, and when the negro jumped the fence she followed closely.

Threatens to Shoot.

The burglar, alarmed by such determined unexpected pursuit, drew a revolver and threatened to fire. An unknown man, about to join in the chase, backed down and hurriedly retreated. Mrs. Dillard, undaunted, continued the chase, but the would-be burglar finally outdistanced her after a three-block race.

Mrs. Dillard, when questioned last night, said she was at first frightened by the gun, but that she "just felt" that the man was bluffing, so she "stood sides," she said. "I thought that he had taken my wedding and engagement rings, I had such a fright."

The would-be burglar, however, succeeded in getting nothing. Call Officer Ingram and Detective Hall arrived on the scene soon after, could find no trace of him.

W. M. Cowan, of 85 Avary drive, Ansley Park, reported Monday morning the loss of a diamond ring and a lady's watch, engraved with the name of Mrs. D. Crouch. Mr. Cowan said a burglar had entered his house Sunday night.

Henry Bowen, of 86 Gilmer street, says a shotgun and a 38-caliber pistol were stolen from his home.

Cigar Store Robbed.

For the second time in the last sixty days the cigar store of Nick Chilas 243 Pearl street, was robbed early Monday morning. Fifteen dollars from the cash register and $3 from a coin box was the haul this time.

A drug store at the corner of Central avenue and Richardson street was entered via the jimmy route, but nothing of value was missed. The burglars missed a bag of money that had been hidden, by the Franklin Drug company, at 169 South Pryor street, was entered by burglars breaking the lock on the rear door. Nothing of value was taken.

Upstairs at William, of No. 88 William street, reported the theft of his automobile, taken from in front of the St. Luke's Episcopal church Sunday night.

CRUISER DES MOINES ORDERED TO DOMINGO

Washington, April 12.—The cruiser Des Moines will be the only additional warship sent to Dominican waters until further details of differences between President Jiminez and his congress are received here. The Des Moines was ordered today from Progreso to Santo Domingo City. It was assumed that Minister Sullivan, in asking for an additional warship, must be in trouble the might easily be fanned into another revolution.

The Nashville already is at Santo Domingo City and the gunboat Wheeling could be sent over from Port Au Prince, Haiti.

Braddy-Neighbor Revival.

The first service of the Braddy-Neighbor revival, from Atlanta to San Francisco, will be held Monday at the Marietta street. The subject of Evangelist Braddy's first sermon is "Faith." There will be two services daily at 3 o'clock in the afternoon and at 7:30 in the evening. The revival will continue for two weeks.

WOMAN SUFFERAGE

It's War Time Aspect.

London, April 12. The women of England are doing their duty. They are taking care of the wounded, or at least cannot assist in work of that kind they are adding their savings to the funds the good work. They are knitting and sewing for the soldiers at the front. The suffragists have given no little trouble to the government that it will undoubtedly soften the hearts of those in Parliament, since the militants" have turned their energies to aid the fighting men of England, and so suffrage may soon come after the terrible war is over.

Thousands of women in America have overcome constipation, and have been cured of womanly ills by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. This medicine, though started nearly half a century ago, sells more widely to-day than any other woman's remedy. It can now be had in tablet form as well as liquid. Every woman who suffers from backache, headache, nervousness, pain at times, should take this "Prescription" of Dr. Pierce.

Many a woman is nervous and irritable, feels dragged down and worn out for no reason that she can think of. In ninety-nine per cent. of these cases it is the stomach, liver or bowels that requires attention; the weak back, dizzy spells and black circles about the eyes, are only symptoms. Go to the source of trouble and correct the irregularities, the drains on the womanly system and the other symptoms disappear.

Doctor Pierce's Pellets are unequaled as a Liver Pill. Smallest, easiest to take. One tiny, Sugar-coated Pellet a Dose. Cures Sick Headache, Bilious Headache, Dizziness, Constipation, Indigestion, Biliousness and all disarrangements of the liver, stomach and bowels. 25 cents vial, by druggists —(adv.)

Kidney Tronble Often Causes Nervousness and Heart Trouble

Two years ago I was badly run down, not able to do any work; suffered from nervousness, heart trouble, kidneys and bladder in bad shape, no appetite, unable to do any work; and since using two bottles of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, I feel fine, am in excellent health and can do most any kind of light work. Since using the Swamp-Root I have been relieved of all the above troubles. I cheerfully give the above testimony, and hope others may be benefited.

Very truly yours,

J. L. DICKSON.

SOUTHERN SUPPLY DEALERS TO MEET HERE WEDNESDAY

The Southern Supply and Machinery Dealers' association, covering fifteen states, will meet in Atlanta Wednesday in its fifteenth annual convention. The convention will last through Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. It is expected that approximotely 500 delegates will attend.

Many brilliant entertainment features have been arranged for the visitors.

JAPAN IS WORKING TO CAPTURE TRADE

Sydney, N. S. W., April 12.—Japan is making marked efforts to capture the South Sea and Australian trade during the supension of German business intercourse. An indication of this is the proposal to open a direct steamer service between Japan and New Zealand, and the fact that more steamers are loading in Japan with goods for the commonwealth than ever before.

Many Japanese commercial men are arriving in Australia.

COLLEGE WOMEN WILL MEET HERE APRIL 22

Prominent Educators Will Attend Convention of Southern Association.

The Southern Association of College Women will hold its twelfth annual meeting in Atlanta, April 22-24. The Ansley hotel will be the headquarters of the association. This meeting will bring to the city many college women of the south as well as educators and heads of collegiate departments.

The association aims to unite college women in the south for the promotion of higher education among women and to raise the standard of woman's education generally. In the way of defining the line of demarkation between preparatory schools and colleges the association has worked in co-operation with the Carnegie foundation. Clyde Furst, secretary of this foundation, will address those present at the opening session.

Through its various committees an interest in the standard course is aroused in high school girls and the standards of the different colleges are brought to their attention. Many tuition scholarships have also been obtained for girls through its efforts.

The several branches of the Southern Association of College Women have been established in Atlanta, Birmingham, Charlotte, Columbus, Fort Worth, Knoxville, Montgomery, Nashville, New Orleans, Raleigh and Richmond.

HALF OF NEW ORLEANS IS MADE RAT-PROOF

Washington, April 12.—"More than half of the approximately 56,000 buildings in New Orleans have been made rat-proof, there has not been a case of plague there since October 1, last, and it will not be long before New Orleans will be one of the most rat-proof cities in the world, announced Dr. W. C. Rucker, assistant surgeon general of the public health service, today. Dr. Rucker has charge of the eradication of the plague.

Reports today show that 218,000 rats have been caught by the health authorities in New Orleans since the anti-plague campaign began last autumn, and all of them have been subjected to bacteriological examination. "All the rats caught have been identified as to species and sex," said Dr. Rucker. "The species plays an important part."

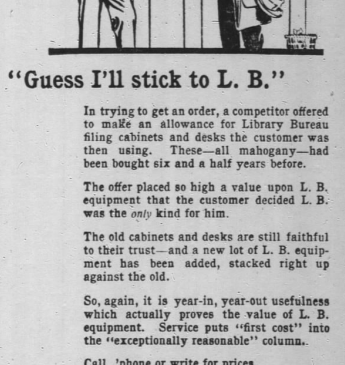
Judge Hammond States Motives In Race for Fulton Ordinary

To the Public: Having announced my candidacy for the office of ordinary of Fulton county, I desire to state certain motives and principles that will control me in making the race. I do not want to enter into a personal political contest for the office. I want a free and unbiased expression of opinion of the voters, uninfluenced by motives and considerations that would prevent such an expression. I do not believe that candidates and their co-workers ought to go about seeking to influence voters. Every voter ought to think and act for himself on his own best judgment.

Thinking this way, I will not make a personal canvass, nor will I employ others to do so for me. I am not indifferent to the result of the election—it would be sheer affectation in me to say so—but I am more concerned about having a fair and honest expression from the people than I am about my personal success. I appreciate most highly the support of my friends, and of those who think I ought to be elected, and I cannot and will not make any personal appeals for votes. I am frank to say that I want the support of my friends and supporters, and will appreciate most highly all they may do for me, but I want them to give it freely and voluntarily, and not under any feeling of compulsion or constraint. If there are any who think I ought to be elected, and who will do good, I want them to organize and help me. But I do not feel at liberty to try to constrain them to do so. I will co-operate, but not lead.

I take this position and make these statements because the office of ordinary, in this county, is a very important one, and its duties are largely judicial in their character, and I am doing this in the interest of the people who think that judicial office ought not to be sought by ordinary political methods. I will not enter into a personal contest. And I decline to name a ticket in advance for the purpose of influencing the action of others. I will keep myself free to select the best and most efficient help I can secure if I should be elected. I think there are more than enough men in the question of efficiency and proper administration than there are who are interested in the success of any one or more individuals.

W. R. HAMMOND.



"Guess I'll stick to L. B."

In trying to get an order, a competitor offered to make an allowance for Library Bureau filing cabinets and desks the customer was then using. These—all mahogany—had been bought six and a half years before.

The offer placed so high a value upon L. B. equipment that the customer decided L. B. was the only kind for him.

The old cabinets and desks are still faithful to their trust—and a new lot of L. B. equipment has been added, stacked right up against the old.

So, again, it is year-in, year-out usefulness which actually proves the value of L. B. equipment. Service puts "first cost" into the "exceptionally reasonable" column.

HEADACHES

Thousands of men and women suffer from headaches every day, other thousands have headaches every week or every month, and still others have headaches occasionally, but not at regular intervals. The best doctor testifies unable to find the cause of most of these headaches, and in most other cases, knowing the cause, he does not know how to advise to get rid of it for a permanent cure. All he can do is to prescribe the usual pain relievers, which give temporary relief, but the headache returns as usual, and treatment is again necessary. If you suffer from headaches realize what they are and take Anti-kamnia Tablets, and the results will be satisfactory to you. Ask your druggist to obtain them at all druggists in any quantity, the worth, 25c worth or more. Ask for A-K Tablets.

SICK-HEADACHES

Sick-headache, the most miserable of all sickness, loses its terrors when A-K Tablets are taken. Southern League Opens---Crackers in Gulltown

Edited By Dick Jemison

Thirteen Strong, Crackers Leave For the Opening

Play Gulls in Mobile Today. Hiett Faces Hogg—Game Will Be Called in Detail Here.

DICK JEMISON WILL DETAIL TODAY'S GAME

The Mobile-Atlanta game today in Mobile will be detailed play by play and recorded on the most complete baseball scoreboard in the country at Dick Jemison's baseball parlor, 1½ Viaduct place. Every incident during the game will be recorded promptly via direct leased wire from the Mobile ball park. All the other games will be recorded inning by inning. The game starts at 4:30 o'clock. The admission fee is 25 cents.

Thirteen strong and led by Manager Bill Smith and Secretary Vaughn Etheridge, the Crackers hit a rattler yesterday afternoon at 5:20 o'clock for Mobile, where they'll do battle today in the opening game of the season with Charley Schmidt's Mobile Gulls.

Arriving in Mobile tomorrow morning, the Crackers will participate in a monster parade that is being arranged to awaken enthusiasm in the Mobile fans and bring to the park the biggest crowd that has even attended a ball game in Mobile.

The Crackers left here confident, with every man on the team in splendid shape and eager for the battle. The two workouts yesterday were just enough to put the team on edge for the opening fray.

"Lindy" Hiett, the former Texas leaguer, has been given the honor of twirling the opening game, and if the big right-hander is in the shape that he has shown in his last time out, the Gulls are in for the battle of their young lives. Bill Rumler will work behind the bats.

Bradley Hogg, who has been the Crackers' jinx for the past two seasons, will no doubt be Manager Schmidt's selection to face the Crackers, with the Gulf chieftain donning the windpad and mask himself.

The players who made the trip to Mobile are: Bowden, left field; Bisland, shortstop; Eibel, first base; Moran, center field; Tullos, third base; Potts, second base; Rumler, catcher; Hiett, pitcher; Browning, pitcher; Allen, pitcher; Waldron, utility. They will face the Gulls in that order.

The players remaining at home are: Pitchers Williams, Pearson, Dent and Thompson and Catcher Neidenfuer. The first named will probably be the Crackers' pitching selection in the opening game here.

Mobile fans will be introduced to several new faces this afternoon when the Crackers play there. Bowden, Tullos, Potts, Rumler, Hiett and Allen making their first trips there.

On the other hand, with the exception of third baseman Jeff Dent, the Crackers will face the same aggregation that they faced last season.

McBRIDE.	ATLANTA.
Powell, lf.	Bowden, lf
Caldwell, 2b.	Bisland, ss
Miller, cf.	Eibel, 1b.

PRESIDENT BAUGH NAMES UMPIRES FOR THE OPENING

Birmingham, Ala., April 12—(Special)—President Baugh this afternoon named the following umpires to officiate in the first games of the season: At Nashville, Kevin and Rudderham; at New Orleans, Chestnutt and O'Toole; at Memphis, Dan Pfenninger; at Mobile, Theodore Breitenstein.

HEMINGWAY WINS CASE AGAINST VOLS

Cincinnati, April 12—The national baseball commission here today reversed the ruling of the national board in disallowing the salary claim of E. M. Hemingway, of the St. Louis Americans, against the Nashville club of the Southern association, and directed the latter club to send $121.50 for transmission to the player.

Hemingway, who refused to accompany the Nashville club on a trip, claiming illness, was suspended for insubordination. The commission holds it could not approve the suspension of a player for insubordination when confined to his room by his team on a trip was due to illness, which confined him to his room. It declared the Nashville club's arbitrary course with the player was unjustifiable and operated to disadvantage to the St. Louis club, to whom he had been released, while under suspension, as well as the player himself.

Piedmont Defeats Clayton.

Demorest, Ga., April 12.—(Special.)—The game here this afternoon between Piedmont college and Clayton was won by Piedmont. It was one of the fastest games of the season, being played in one hours and ten minutes. The Clayton pitcher struck out five men and the Piedmont pitcher struck out seven.

Score.	R.	H.	E.
Piedmont	6	8	1
Clayton	1	6	3

Batteries—Piedmont, Bohannon and Pecton; Clayton, Keener and Powell. Umpire, Flor.

Palm Beach Suit for Cracker Driving in the Most Runs Opening Day

The Cracker who drives in the most runs in the opening game with the New Orleans Pelicans at Ponce de Leon Wednesday will be the recipient of a Palm Beach suit, made to his measure, with a handsome belt and buckle to match.

Robert F. Mobley, manager of the J. J. Bauer company, is the donor of the suit, which has been accepted on behalf of the players by Manager Smith.

UMPIRES ASSIGNED BY PRESIDENT TENER

New York, April 12.—John K. Tener, president of the National league, met his umpires here today and went over the rules with them, explaining ambiguous points and laying down a code for strict enforcement of the regulations this year.

The pairing of umpires and assignments for opening games follow: At New York, Rigler and Hart; at Boston, Byron and Orth; at Cincinnati, Klem and Emslie; at Chicago, Quigley and Eason.

PREP LEAGUERS PLAY SECOND ROUND TODAY

The second round of Prep league games will be played this afternoon. All six teams are ready to go good start Friday, and for once in the history of the league, the dope ran true.

The games to be played this afternoon are as follows:

Tech High v. Boys' High, at Grant Field.
G. M. A. v. Donald Fraser, at Decatur.
Peacock v. Marist, on the Marist campus.

CLUBS	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Boys' High	1	0	1.000
Tech High	1	0	1.000
Peacock	1	0	.000
G. M. A.	0	1	.000
Donald Fraser	0	0	.000
Marist	0	0	.000

Southern League Opens Fifteenth Season Tuesday

The Southern league is ready for its 1915 opening, the fifteenth annual season of the league. Today is the official opening day in four of the cities and Wednesday the official opening in the other four.

This arrangement will give the eight cities a more even chance in their battle for the attendance trophy, instead of four days' interim between openings, as has been the case in the past.

Elaborate plans have been perfected by all of the towns for their opening days. The merchants are going to close their stores for the day; there will be a monster parade, some public exercises will twirl the first ball and so on.

The schedule of games for today is as follows:

Atlanta in Mobile.
Birmingham in New Orleans.
Chattanooga in Nashville.
Little Rock in Memphis.

The schedule of games for the second opening on Wednesday is:

New Orleans in Atlanta.
Mobile in Birmingham.
Nashville in Little Rock.
Memphis in Chattanooga.

GEORGIA DOWNS ALABAMA, 5 TO 4

Hitchcock's Great Work in the Box for Georgia and His Batting Prowress Were the Features.

Athens, Ga., April 12.—(Special.)—Hitchcock's fine pitching and batting took the first of the two games with Alabama here today for Georgia by a 5-to-4 score.

Hitchcock, who was wild in pitching, though in reality allowed a fair article, connected for a hit out of every time at bat. Clements got four hits out of five times. He looked like a schoolboy game for awhile, and in the second half of the first Alabama exploded and grabbed all around in the grass for balls they might have taken in.

In this inning Clements, Erwin, Harrison, Henderson, Hitchcock and Gillis, as fast as they came to the plate, lammed the ball for hits or near-hits and rolled up four runs after loosely handling the first half—without an Alabama error, however. Getting further than the second base.

In the third, Hatchett hit a long one over Hitchcock, advanced Hamilton to third and he got to second. Hitchcock picked up an infield fly-ground and neatly put him out before Hamilton reached home, saving the run.

In the fourth, Wells caught a long fly of Harrison's between left and center field, which was a pretty stab.

Three pretty double plays added to the spectacular work of the teams.

The game tomorrow will be hard-fought, Coffman pitching for Georgia.

"ALL-COTTON" WEDDING IS OBSERVED IN ROME

Rome, Ga., April 12.—(Special.)—With the whirr of machinery as her wedding march and that from the chorus as her bridal wreath, Miss Flora Hamby, aged 15, was married in the cloth room of the Anchor duck mills to Claude Eaves, another employee of the mill, by Rev. John Kasey, a minister, who also works in the mill. The young couple had planned to marry promptly. It is understood that the father of the girl objected on account of her youth, and the ceremony was performed without his knowledge, although at the time he was at work in another room of the factory.

owners for the jaunt to the ball park. The Ad Men's baseball team, together with all it smembers, is going to assist in making the parade a success. But you do not have to be a member of this association to get in the parade. Just be along as you have a car, whether it is a one-lunger or an eight-cylinder speedster, you are welcome to participate.

Mr. Boelin wants all the Ad Men who have automobiles or those with automobiles. His original request is that they meet at the Ad Men's club and who has an automobile he can lend for the occasion will notify him by telephone at once and the machine will be sent to Johnson-Gewinner's place on Forsyth street before 2 o'clock.

Not only this, but every member of the Ad Men's club is especially urged to be there at that time to take part in the parade, and to attend the opening game in a body. Chairman Boelin has promised that he will have big trucks and seats enough to take care of all the Ad Men who come, but he wants help and he urges that the Ad Men's baseball committee will begin telephoning him at once.

COMMITTEES ARE NAMED TO CANVASS THE CITY.

To insure covering the city with a line-tooth comb, Vice President Gewinner, of the local club, who has had the attendance arrangements in hand, has named committees to visit every merchant in the city and has so distributed them that they can see every merchant in their own particular line.

Every one of the big office buildings will be canvassed by special committees, each building having its own special committee.

Fourth National Bank Building—Charles I. Ryan, Boff Simms and Barry L. English.

Third National Bank Building—George W. Forrester, Thomas Ervin and J. N. Goddard.

Atlanta National Bank Building—George W. Adair, John A. Hynds and Edward Inman.

Equitable Building—Henry Davis, C. K. Ayer and Walter Kirkpatrick.

Hurt Building—Major E. P. Pomeroy, J. A. McCord and W. Joe Tilson.

Healey Building—Rutherford Lipscomb, W. A. Fuller and H. Clay Moore.

Grant Building—Frank Lake, Dr. A. Van Dyke and A. L. Waldo.

Candler Building—Asa G. Candler, Jr., Harry L. Dix and C. C. Hailwater.

Walton Building—George McCarty, Jr. and Tom Winn.

Empire Building—H. B. Scott, Henry Kennedy and Lee Harvey.

The committee named to visit the retail merchants of the city are George Muse, J. K. Gewinner and Lloyd Parks.

The county courthouse officers will be urged to close for the afternoon by Henry M. Wood and Arnold Broyles.

The wholesale houses will be canvassed as follows:

Wholesale Dry Goods—W. A. Speer, Hugh Carter and Presley Yeats.

Wholesale Millinery—Max Koltz and N. Rodenhelmer.

Wholesale Boots and Shoes—Cris Sullivan and J. K. Orr.

Manufacturers—Harry Schleisinger, Tom Glenn and Oscar Elsas.

WILLIAMS OR PEARSON TO TWIRL THE GAME.

For the interest of the fans, the opening game will be staged at 3:15 o'clock with the New Orleans Pelicans as the opponents of the locals.

"Cy" Williams, the big Albany spitballer, or Ike Pearson, the Jacksonville twirler, will be Manager Smith's selection in face the Pelicans, with Joe Jenkins back of the bat.

Tickets for the game can be purchased at Tumlin Bros. stores, and the way they are going it seems certain that there will be a record attendance. In addition to Tumlin Bros. there will be extra ticket windows at the ball park.

The Transportation club, M. & M., Atlanta Athletic club, Capital City club and others have big boxes at the ball park, which they claim will be filled up with their members for the opening game, and so many requests have been made for seats in these boxes that it is doubtful if they all can be accommodated.

With every one working as thoroughly as they now are, the success of opening day depends entirely on the weather and the weather man states that we are going to have grand weather for the opening.

It's up to you, fans. Are you going to let Birmingham have the laugh on us again? We hope not, and we do not believe that you will.

Remember the day, April 14. Time, 3:15 o'clock.

"Be a booster."

International Dates.

New York, April 12.—The 1915 schedule was adopted here today at a meeting of representatives of all clubs in the International league. It calls for 154 games.

On April 27 Toronto will open the season at Richmond. The season will end on September 18. The full list of playing dates will not be made public until next Friday. Alvin M. Smith, of Richmond, was elected to the new board of directors.

Yanks Release Two.

New York, April 12.—The New York Americans today released James Ring, pitcher, and Angelo Aragon, infielder, to the Richmond club of the International league. Both players may be recalled at the end of the season.

MISSISSIPPI AGGIES BEATEN BY MERCER

Dewberry's Work at Third and His Hitting Were Features of the Game.

Macon, Ga., April 12.—(Special.)—In a very slow anybody's game, Mercer defeated the Mississippi Aggies by the score of 5 to 4.

The batters had little trouble in hitting the benders of both Hunt and Roberts. Roberts left the game in the eighth. With the score tied, Shaw struck out the first two men to face him in the ninth, then hit Swann, who stole second and scored on Hawes' hit to right, breaking the old game up.

Mercer Third Baseman Dewberry played a sensational game, Dewberry's error that he made being on a very difficult chance. His batting was also the offensive feature, getting three timely hits three out of four times up.

Clements, Mercer's catcher, caught the entire game with his thumb and forefinger bound together as a result of injuries received Saturday, which incapacitated the number one man. Clements' throwing to bases by the Aggies. One base always amounted to two for the Aggies as no attempt was made to steal at the bags.

The batteries for tomorrow will probably be Manager Smith & Shaw and Roger Mercer, Stevens and Clements.

Jitney Buses Are Fought By Street Car Systems Of the Virginia Cities

Richmond, Va., April 12.—The struggle between the Portland Railroad operating street car systems in Richmond and other Virginia cities, applied to the courts today when the companies filed petitions for an injunction to restrain two companies from operating jitney buses on the streets of the cities. The jitney alleges in its bill that the buses are a "common nuisance," that the operating company has not secured a franchise, and that they are working great damage to the property of the plaintiffs. The city attorney already has held that the jitneys are not common carriers and therefore do not require a franchise.

CARGO OF WILHELMINA BOUGHT BY BRITAIN

Washington, April 12.—The state department was notified today of virtual settlement without trial of the case of the cargo of the American steamer Wilhelmina, held up at Falmouth, while bound for Germany with foodstuffs.

N. B. Lindhelm, one of the owners of the cargo, conferred with Assistant Secretary Chandler Anderson and the department announced that dispatches from London announcing that the British government had purchased the cargo had arrived during the delay.

Jap Cruiser at Honolulu.

San Francisco, April 12.—The arrival of the Japanese cruiser Idzumo and collier Kamakura Maru at Honolulu, T. H. today, is reported in a cable received by the chamber of commerce. The Idzumo asked permission by wireless to land men to bury a sailor.

Tobacco Habit Easily Conquered

A well-known New Yorker of wide experience has written a book telling how the tobacco or snuff habit may be easily and completely banished in three days with delightful benefit.

The health improves wonderfully after the nicotine poison is out of the system. Calmness, tranquil sleep, clear eyes, normal appetite, good digestion, manly vigor, strong memory and a general gain in efficiency are among the many benefits reported. No more of that nervous feeling; no more craving; no more expense of chewing tobacco to pacify the morbid desire. The author, Edward J. Woods, 160 E. Sixty-first New York City, will send his book free on application to anyone who writes to him.

Every Man Read This

This treatment is said to have acquired a wonderful reputation throughout the East, owing to its peculiar propensity to fortify the nerve force and generate health and a consequent personal magnetism, so essential to the happiness of every normal human being. It is claimed to be a blessing to those who are physically impaired; gloomy, despondent, nervous or who have trembling of the limbs, dizziness, heart palpitation, cold hands and feet, insomnia, fear without cause, timidity in venturing and general inability to act rationally as others do. Also of vast benefit to writers, professional men, office workers and the victims of society's late hours and over-indulgence in wines, liquors, etc.

By obtaining the treatment at some well stocked pharmacy, no one need know of another's trouble. While the treatment has been in high favor prescribed and dispensed heretofore by physicians and pharmacists, the grain tablets are so prepared with full directions for self-administration that it is wholly unnecessary to pay a physician for prescribing them. Just ask for three-grain Cadomene tablets, begin their use and soon all the joy of a healthy body, sound nerves and strength will be felt.

NO MORE CRUISING FOR GERMAN ROVER

Probable Kronprinz Wilhelm Will Be Interned at Newport News—Vessel Chased Into Port.

Newport News, Va., April 12.—The German merchant raider Kronprinz Wilhelm, under orders from the Washington government, will not be permitted to go into dry dock at the ship yard here until Lieutenant Captain Thierfelder, commander of the ship, has made formal request in writing of the repairs he wishes to make to render his vessel seaworthy and for supplies necessary to take him to the nearest port.

Captain Thierfelder told Collector of Customs Hamilton tonight that he would make his formal request as soon as possible, but that he could not do so before tomorrow. Meanwhile the sea-scarred commerce destroyer remains at anchor in the James river and was examined late today by experts from the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock company, who found the ship leaking slightly and that her boilers are in bad shape.

Internment Is Probable.

Unofficially it was learned that the vessel is in need of much tinkering before she could be made seaworthy, and this was taken as an indication that the ship eventually may be forced to follow her predecessor, the Prinz Eitel Friedrich, to internment at this port for the period of the war.

The doughty German captain, however, is insistent that he must hasten to repair his ship and return upon the work commissioned him by the German government as a merchant raider on the high seas.

"I will decide upon repairs necessary to my ship as soon as it is humanly possible," Captain Thierfelder said tonight, "because it is necessary that I proceed as soon as possible. It is of the utmost importance that I resume the duties assigned to me by my government at sea."

The German commander discharged today officers and men of the British ships Tamar and Coleby, whom he brought to this port, and they were transferred to the British horse steamer Cassandra amid the plaudits of their fellow countrymen aboard ships in the harbor. Tonight they left for England, all of them glad to be alive and wondering how they slipped through the warships of the allies off the Virginia capes. That the escape was a miraculous one was attested to by Captain Thierfelder himself tonight in an interview on his experiences in racing to this refuge from the equator after destroying the Coleby, March 27 last.

Story of German Captain.

"We started north from the equator short of coal and provisions," said Captain Thierfelder as he took a respite from official business late in the day. "We also had sick sailors aboard, afflicted because of too much rice diet and lack of fresh vegetables. When we started north we hoped and had planned to meet up with German supply ships. Unfortunately for us, none of the supply ships we expected turned up. What became of them I do not know, except we saw from the shelter of overhanging clouds one collier we had expected being chased by two British cruisers, which fortunately could not sight up, and we made our escape.

"Unfortunately also on our trip north through the mid-Atlantic we did not meet up with any merchant ships from which we could get coal and supplies. In this situation it was necessary for us to get to port and also to a dry dock and I picked out Newport News as the place to come.

"As we came up we continually heard the British warships talking to each other on the wireless. It seemed on some days and nights that there were as many as eight of the warships within a radius of a few hundred miles. But we kept on due north, running as rapidly as we could with our ship darkened at night. One night we heard the exchange of news about the Prinz Eitel Friedrich being at Newport News. Thereafter we heard information about the Eitel every night. But suddenly a few nights ago we got the news from the British wireless that the Prinz Eitel had been interned. Immediately thereafter all this talking between the British warships ceased.

Dashed for the Virginia Capes.

"We presumed from this that the fleet of warships was breaking up and on Saturday night we decided to bolt in for the Virginia capes. With all lights out we started at top speed, but had not gone far when we again picked up the wireless of the allied warships. But we kept on. As we got nearer the coast it seemed to us from the signals that there were as many as three British warships and one French ship within distances varying from three to fifty miles of us. One ship seemed dangerously near as we approached the capes. At daybreak we were safe within the capes and took aboard a pilot, who steered us here.

"One night on our way up we were to have met a German collier and made for her. There were low over-hanging clouds about us, but in the distance a brilliant moonlight showed us our ship and there were two British warships after her. The clouds protected us and we escaped. We never heard of the collier again."

From other sources it was learned that this collier was believed to be the Macedonia, which was reported to have put out from Las Palmas about two weeks ago.

Captain Thierfelder denied statements made by British prisoners aboard his vessel that his ship ever was in wireless communication with the Prinz Eitel while the latter was in port here or before that time during the sea raiding career of the two German ships. Official inquiry was made concerning these reports.

Couldn't Reach the Eitel.

The commander declared that he had tried repeatedly after being commissioned as a merchant raider to get in communication with the Prinz Eitel, but failed on every occasion. He said that when the Kronprinz Wilhelm left New York last August and was overtaken by the German cruiser Karlsruhe, the commander of the latter gave him a naval code at sea which was an old code. The Eitel, he explained, later was provided with a revised German war wireless code. Thereafter, in view of the differences in codes, Captain Thierfelder declared, every time the Eitel heard the Wilhelm calling, Commander Thierichens thought he was being lured by some British war vessel that had managed to get hold of the old German code and kept silence.

Investigation also is being made into the clearance of the Kronprinz Wilhelm from New York. This, it is understood, is being done at Washington. The Wilhelm cleared from New York for Bremen. Officers of the ship today declared that the vessel was ordered to Bremen with reservists, but that, without any warning to them, they suddenly were overtaken by the Karlsruhe in midocean and their orders changed. They insist that the clearance was honest and above board, but that orders for conversion into a warship came after they had been en route to Bremen for three days.

Frenchmen Refused to Take Pledge.

It was discovered tonight that three officers of one of the French ships sunk by the Wilhelm had refused to take the pledge demanded by Captain Thierfelder not to participate in the war against Germany and that they were held aboard ship until today together with the British crews brought in. All the British sailors took the oath, but claimed it was under duress, and after their release today some said they proposed to do anything their country called upon them to do. The French officers left here with the British on board the Cassandra. Their identity was not disclosed.

Ten more cases of beri-beri were reported aboard the Wilhelm today, making a total number of 110 sick, according to latest advices. No formal request for their removal has been made, however, as the ship doctors believe fresh green vegetables received today will improve their condition rapidly. To fight the beri-beri, onions, potatoes, celery, turnips, white cabbage and grape juice were taken aboard. Besides emergency supplies, 150 tons of coal and 50 tons of water for port purposes were taken on board ship under government supervision. Request for the other supplies will be forwarded to Washington as soon as received and the naval examining board will be asked to survey the ship after Captain Thierfelder has submitted his estimate of repairs necessary and time he requires.

Further evidence that allied warships were hot upon the Wilhelm's trail was given tonight by Captain Lucas, of the British ship Berwindmore, who followed the German raider into the Capes. He said that when the Wilhelm passed within the three-mile limit he saw her stern reflected by a searchlight and that he later discovered the light had been thrown from affairs by a French cruiser.

Three Weeks for Repairs.

Late tonight it was learned that preliminary survey of the Kronprinz Wilhelm had convinced experts that the ship could not be made seaworthy in less than three weeks. No official report to that effect has been made, however. The Wilhelm's pumps are working constantly and the bilge from her pipes is unusually heavy. The leaks were caused by loosening of her plates occasioned by frequent coaling at sea and ramming merchant ship when shots failed to sink them.

Commander Thierichens of the interned Prinz Eitel Friedrich, came over from Norfolk again tonight and dined with Captain Thierfelder. The Eitel's commander denied intimations that he had used the wireless of his ship while in port here before internment to communicate with the Wilhelm. He said he had pledged this government to not use his wireless for transmission and that he had kept his pledge.

GOVERNMENT FIGHTS FOR 2,000,000 ACRES

Washington, April 12.—The government's brief in the Oregon and California land grant cases, involving more than 2,000,000 acres of land valued at fifty to seventy million dollars, was filed today in the supreme court.

The case is against the Oregon and California Railroad company, Union Trust Company of New York, and about 6,000 other defendants. The government alleges that about 800,000 acres of a grant of 3,100,000 to a railroad to be constructed from California to Portland, Ore., were disposed of in violation of the conditions of the grant and is suing to recover the undisposed of 2,300,000 acres.

The trial court decided in favor of the government, the circuit court of appeals certified certain questions to the supreme court and the department of justice asked the court to send up the entire record.

IF BLADDER OR KIDNEYS BOTHER

Try the Favorite Recipe of Old Folks.

Every one knows that Buchu and Juniper properly compounded is the best medicine for weak kidneys or bladder, of which the following are the symptoms: Urine becomes cloudy, an unusual flow of urine, scalding, dribbling, straining or too frequent passage from the bladder—head and backaches—ankles or eyelids are swollen or puffy, spots before the eyes, leg cramps, shortness of breath, sleeplessness and despondency, dizzy spells, dropsy. Don't waste time wondering if you will get Bright's disease or diabetes, but get from any reliable druggist a bottle of Stuart's Buchu and Juniper Compound. Take a spoonful after meals. In a day or so your kidneys will act fine and natural. Stuart's Buchu mixed with Juniper has been used for years to clean out impurities from the kidneys and bladder, also to neutralize the uric acids in the blood and urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending all kidney and bladder weakness and doing away with all irritating symptoms. Stuart's Buchu and Juniper is a fine kidney regulator and has helped thousands of sufferers from weak kidneys.—(adv.)

New York, April 12.—After making new high seasonal records on a continuation of Saturday's buying movement, cotton turned easier under heavy realizing, with the close steady, but at a net decline of from 3 to 8 points.

Relatively firm Liverpool cables promoted the early buying movement, and after opening firm at an advance of 1 to 9 points, the market sold about 8 to 13 points net higher. This advance carried October contracts up to 10.69, or $2.65 a bale above the low level of last Friday morning, and it evidently attracted heavy profit-taking, while there was also active selling here by houses with Liverpool connections and some selling of May by southern spot interests.

Much of the early buying appeared to have been in the way of covering, and once the demand from shorts had been supplied, prices soon turned easier. The offerings of May were readily taken at a discount of some 30 to 33 points under July, however, and after a reaction of 15 to 20 points from the early high level, fluctuations were more or less irregular with trading less active. Reports of better weather in the south probably promoted some of the selling on the decline, and there was a good deal of bearish or reactionary talk around the ring during the afternoon. Closing prices were within 3 or 4 points of the lowest. Consigned cotton continues to arrive at New York in considerable volume and warehouse stocks here are now in excess of 158,00 bales, but part of the supply is coming from relatively high-priced markets in the southwest, and some estimate that fully one-third of the local stock is in storage here for foreign account.

Private cables attributed steadiness in Liverpool to continued good spot demand and some of the larger trade interests were buyers of October here on the afternoon decline.

Exports today 28,218 bales, making 6,775,267 so far this season. Port receipts, 28,888.

United States port stocks, 1,475,256. Interior receipts, 16,317.

New Orleans Trading.

New Orleans, April 12.—Although cotton displayed steadiness today in the early trading and made new high records for the season on all months, the market became soft before the session was very old, and, under extensive liquidation, went into a pronounced decline, closing at the lowest, a net loss of 11 to 15 points. At the best of the day prices were 7 to 8 points over last week's close. From the highest to the lowest there was a fall of 16 to 21 points on the most active months.

Shortly after the opening brokers handled a large volume of buying orders which put July to 9.99 and December to 10.52. When the market looked strongest it was flooded with offerings, apparently from the buyers of last week, and there was a quick sag of nearly a dollar a bale. In the early afternoon a momentary recovery was made, but, after the opening, the market made no real display of steadiness.

IRREGULAR STOCK TRADING MONDAY

Trading Active Enough, But Selling for Profits Was Accentuated by Bear Aggressions.

New York, April 12.—Irregularity which bordered upon reaction toward the close was the dominant note of today's stock market. Trading was active enough at all times to indicate that speculative interests were still in control, but the source of prices suggested not only further selling for profits by home and foreign interests, but a renewal of bearish aggressions as well.

Unsettlement was most pronounced in the final hour, when Bethlehem Steel once more became the center of a feverish buying movement, which sent the price up to 125, or 3 points above its previous record figure. The stock closed at 124, a net gain for the day of 16 points. As heretofore, no reasonable explanation for the rise was obtainable, and stock market observers ascribed the move as a further diving in of shorts. United States Steel held its recent acquired prominence for the greater part of the session. At best it sold within 1 1-4 points of last week's high price, but in common with the general list feel back in final dealings.

Other leaders, like Union Pacific, Reading and some of the dividend paying shares, failed to equal recent high quotations, Amalgamated Copper being the only important exception. Motor shares were noteworthy for their heaviness, with losses of 2 to over 4 points. Other industrials and specialties moved unevenly, with offsetting gains and losses.

Time money was quotably higher for all dates, the increased demand from stock brokerage sources contributing appreciably to this situation. London and Continental exchange were lower on heavy offerings for remittances.

Total sales of stocks 872,900 shares.

Bonds irregular, total sales, par value, $3,675,000.

United States bonds unchanged on call.

Dry Goods.

New York, April 12.—Cotton goods and yarn markets were strong today and prices are moving higher. Wide interest is being taken on the two great carpet auctions announced to take place next week. Raw silk was easier, dress goods and men's wear was bought moderately for quick delivery.

Foreign Finances.

London, April 12.—Bar silver, 23⅝d per ounce.

Money, 1¼@1½ per cent.

Discount rates: Short bills, 2⅝ per cent; three months, 3 per cent.

Coffee.

New York, April 12.—Coffee futures opened at unchanged prices to a decline of 4 points and sold about 1 to 4 points net lower during today's earlier trading under scattering liquidation of May and December contracts which may possibly have been inspired by reports of somewhat easier primary markets. There was no active pressure, however, and prices later rallied on covering, with the close not 1 point lower to 1 point higher. Sales, 18,750; April $5.80; May, $5.85; June, 5.90; July, 7.00; August, 7.08; September, 7.15; October, 7.20; November, 7.25; December, 7.31; January, 7.38; February, 7.45; March, 7.52.

Spot coffee steady; Rio No. 7, 7¾; Santos No. 4, 10½. Cost and freight offers were reported a shade easier at about 7.30 to 7.40 for Rio sevens and 10.40 to 10.45 for Santos fours.

Rio exchange was ⅛d lower and milreis prices were unchanged in Rio, but 50 reis lower in Santos. Brazilian port receipts 19,000; Jundiahy receipts 8,000; shipments from Rio and Santos to Europe last week were 347,000 and to the United States 46,000 bags.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.

New York, April 12.—(Special.)—Although Liverpool came better than due, our advance of 10 to 12 points did not show the strength as on the last days of the week.

Many felt that the sharp advance was entirely uncalled for; many others took profits, while again the sentiment was expressed that at these prices the market has two sides and that it should only be bought with care on reactions, as the south might sell freely at any higher prices.

All of these suggestions found expression in the reaction that closed the market 4 points lower, while many expect a pause in Wall street which might bring about a sharp reaction here. Liverpool is certainly expected to be lower tomorrow.

Jay, Bond & Co.

New York, April 12.—(Special.)—Buying on the part of local spot interests early today encouraged a broadening demand, as a result of which prices advanced into new ground. While this improvement was not maintained owing to heavy realizing and fresh selling by Liverpool, the market nevertheless continued steady in tone and responded easily to buying orders. While New York is relatively the highest market, hedge selling is not large enough to permanently depress prices, and this situation, it would seem, can only be accounted for by either a steady demand for spot cotton or else the determination of holders not to offer except on advancing markets.

BULLS HAD SWAY IN WHEAT MONDAY

Capture of the German Sea Raider Had an Effect to Bolster the Prices—Other Gains Weaker.

Chicago, April 12.—Bulls had the advantage today in wheat. Exporters were buying new crop futures. Closed unsettled, but 7-8 to 2 1-4c above Saturday night's level. Corn finished 1-8 off to 1-8@1-4 up, oats down 1-4 to 1-4@3-8, and provisions varying from 10c decline to a shade advance.

Knowledge that the last of the sea raiders was out of the way for the present seemed to have considerable effect on sentiment favoring higher wheat prices. Higher prices at Liverpool, with reports that the amount of wheat on ocean passage had fallen off to a material extent, helped to encourage a speculative advance.

Corn advanced at first with wheat, but country offerings grew larger.

Holders of oats unloaded rather freely after corn turned weak.

A Pocketful of Worry

LUXURIOUS transportation, pleasant companionship and delightful resorts will fail to give the tourist his money's worth of genuine pleasure if he is constantly anxious about the money in his pocket. Settle this cash-in-pocket nuisance before you go by obtaining one of our Letters of Credit or a book of Travelers' Cheques. Either of these will afford you the convenience of having a bank account in any city you may visit. Yet the cost is very small.

DAVIDSON COLLEGE WINS FROM EMORY

Victors Favor Alliance of the American Countries Over Monroe Doctrine.

Davidson College, North Carolina, carried off the honors in the joint debate with Emory, of Oxford, Ga., last night in the auditorium of Agnes Scott college in the presence of an audience of 500 persons, composed of the students and many interested visitors.

There were five judges and the decision at the close of the debate went to Davidson by the vote of 3 to 2, amid vociferous applause, in which the Davidson college "yell" played conspicuous part.

The debaters had to deal with the interesting subject, "Resolved, That An Alliance of All the American Countries Should Take the Place of the Monroe Doctrine." F. W. Price, of Nanking, China, and F. H. Smith, of Easley, S. C., from Davidson, championed the affirmative, while Emory took the negative, with Fred W. Elabree, of McRae, Ga., and Lewis King, of Madison, Ga., as her representatives.

J. K. Orr Presides.

In introducing the debaters, J. K. Orr, who presided, said on the part of the trustees, faculty and students of Agnes Scott, that they felt highly honored in the selection of that institution as the scene of the champion debate between these two prominent and well established colleges, and in return he promised them both an interested and an interesting audience. J. G. Patton, of Decatur, acted as timekeeper.

The affirmative urged that an alliance of the American countries should take the place of the Monroe Doctrine, largely on the ground that it was only right that the other American countries besides the United States should share the responsibility for its enforcement. The negative presented the doctrine as one of the greatest agencies for the preservation of peace the western hemisphere has ever known, and contended for its continued usefulness.

The debate was splendidly conducted on both sides, and the speakers were frequently applauded for their strong climaxes, and provoked laughter by witty retort. The judges were Dr. C. B. Wilmer, W. J. Tilson, H. A. Etheridge, Harry A. Alexander and C. S. Culver. Their votes were collected by the ushers and handed to Chairman Orr, who announced the result as 3 to 2 for Davidson.

Musical Program.

Delightful features of the program were two musical numbers by a quartet composed of Misses Patton, Burt, Bryan and Phillips, who sang sweetly "In the Gloaming" and "Love's Old Sweet Song," and vocal solo by Miss Lysbeth Pendleton, whose rendition of "Jean" and "Uncle Reme" won well deserved plaudits from her hearers. Rev. W. T. Smith opened the evening with prayer and Rev. V. C. Lacy pronounced the benediction.

At the conclusion of the exercises the participants in the debate were entertained at an informal reception by the two literary societies of Agnes Scott, the Propylean and the Mnemosynean, whose membership is composed of the college students.

JANE ADDAMS TALKS OF PEACE CONGRESS

New York, April 12.—America's delegates to the International Congress of Women at The Hague late this month were given a farewell dinner here tonight preparatory to their departure tomorrow. A peace flag will fly from the masthead of the ship if plans of the delegates are carried out, it was announced.

Miss Jane Addams, of Chicago, president of the Woman's Peace party, and a delegate, was the principal speaker tonight. She said the coming congress gave great promise of being a success. Already, she declared, twenty-eight Dutch women, six English, five Belgian and four German women have signified their intention of attending.

Miss Addams asserted that "one of the underlying purposes of the congress—the winning back of peace—meets with opposition from a certain type of man who believes the matter of peace for the belligerent countries belong to international lawyers."

Actor Eben Plympton Dead.

New York, April 12.—Eben Bradlee, known on the stage as Eben Plympton, one-time leading man with Mary Anderson, died here today of pneumonia. He had been ill nine days. He was born in Boston 69 years ago, and made his debut in Sacramento with a stock company. He later played leading roles with the Booths, Clara Morris, Mme. Modjeska and other stars.

Finds a Cure For Pellagra

All Skin Eruption Gone, Doctors Now Convinced Mrs. Vaughn Is Entirely Well.

Mrs. C. H. Vaughn, Millville, Ark., writes: "There is nothing I ever could do but what I can do it now. There is no sign of skin eruption. One of our local doctors told me that my cure was one of the grandest things that ever happened—not only for me, but for the whole community, to let them know that there is a cure for pellagra.

"All the doctors that waited on me are convinced that your remedy is a real cure."

There's the true word from a cured patient. If you have Pellagra, or know of anyone who suffers from Pellagra, it is your duty to consult the resourceful Baughn, who has fought and conquered the dreadful malady right in the heart of the Pellagra belt in Alabama.

The symptoms—hands red like sunburn, skin peeling off; sore mouth, the lips, throat and tongue a flaming red with much mucous and choking; indigestion and nausea; either diarrhea or constipation.

There is hope. Get Baughn's Big Free book on Pellagra, and learn about the remedy for Pellagra that has at last been found. Address American Compounding Co., Box 2003, Jasper, Ala., remembering money is refunded in any case where the remedy fails to cure.

TRANSPORT IS SENT TO RESCUE AMERICANS

United States Orders the Sumner to Tampico—Carranza Relents About Foreigners.

Washington, April 12.—General Carranza informed American Consul Silliman at Vera Cruz today that he would furnish a train for Americans desiring to leave Mexico City. He will permit a passenger train from Vera Cruz to proceed as far as Ometusco, 40 miles east of Mexico City, where the Americans would be picked up.

That action grew out of the effort of the United States to secure the neutralization of the railroad between Mexico City and Vera Cruz. Although unwilling to make any permanent arrangement, General Carranza now has expressed a desire to aid foreigners who are anxious to reach the seacoast.

Many Americans and foreigners in Tampico are planning to leave and the transport Sumner at Galveston was ordered to Tampico to bring them back. Three hundred Americans have filed requests for transportation, but officials believe the number will be increased when the army transport, with a capacity of 1,000, arrives at the Mexican port. Threatened famine, continuous fighting in the outskirts of the city and lack of work have caused an exodus of foreigners from Tampico.

VILLA COMMANDER GREAT WITH RIFLE.

Brownsville, Texas, April 12.—Fighting by small parties of the Carranza garrison in sorties against the Villa troops about Matamoros continued today. All were unimportant. One clash between about fifty Carranza troops and a small body of Villa men was over the possession of a cow which both parties wanted for slaughter for dinner today. The Carranza party won the cow. Villa officers said their casualties were two wounded in a fight about daybreak.

General Jose Rodriguez, commanding the Villa troops, startled visitors at his camp today with a display of rifle marksmanship. Borrowing a rifle from a soldier, he took aim and fired at the hat of another soldier who stood 50 feet away with his back turned. The shot penetrated the hat. The soldier wheeled and saluted. Thereupon Rodriguez put another bullet through the hat. The soldier then politely removed his hat, bowed, laid it on the ground and moved a few steps away from the hat.

No artillery has arrived yet at the Villa lines, but at General Rodriguez's camp it was announced that his headquarters train, with the military band aboard, was on its way to the Matamoros line.

VILLA TROOPS ARE RETREATING.

Laredo, Texas, April 12.—Villa troops, under command of General Orestes Pereira, tonight are in retreat toward Monterey after losing 500 killed and a number wounded in a battle lasting three hours today between La Jarita and Huisachito, 30 miles south of Nuevo Laredo, according to advices received by Carranza agents here. The Carranza forces, commanded by General MacLovia Herrera, are said to have captured fourteen wagon loads of arms and ammunition and three machine guns.

BIG CARTRIDGE ORDER PLACED BY CARRANZA.

New Orleans, April 12.—Carranza agents placed orders for 37,000,000 rounds of small arms ammunition here today, according to persons in close touch with local constitutionalist officials. It was said the contracts call for 27,000,000 rifle cartridges and 10,000,000 rounds for machine guns, delivery to begin June 15. Announcement that such a large order had been placed occasioned surprise here, as it was understood that constitutionalist agents only recently had been informed by manufacturers that it would be impossible to book large orders for delivery before September 1.

ABARNO AND CARBONE ARE DECLARED GUILTY

New York, April 12.—Frank Abarno and Carmine Carbone were found guilty by a jury late tonight on a charge of having made and placed a bomb in St. Patrick's cathedral here on March 2. The jury recommended clemency for both.

Justice Nott announced that he would impose sentence and hear any motion regarding the case April 19. The prisoners were remanded to the Tombs.

Ten minutes before the verdict was given the jury returned to the courtroom for information as to the culpability of a police officer who was an alleged accomplice in the commission of a crime. The question concerned the position of Amedio Polignani, the young detective, who, posing as an anarchist, had associated with Carbone and Abarno until their arrest. Counsel for the defendants had characterized the case as a "frame up" by the police.

Justice Nott told the jury that the law does not regard as guilty a police officer, who, in the performance of his duty, aids in the commission of a crime. He said the officer is preventing crime, although in doing so he frequently is obliged to assist in preparations for a crime.

DARING HOAX PLAYED BY YOUNG RUSS GIRL

Petrograd, March 21.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—A 16-year-old girl, the daughter of a fruit dealer, lately perpetrated the daring hoax of passing herself off as a daughter of the Russian emperor, even to inspecting a hospital at Gatchina, where she was received with royal honors.

Yelina Romanoff, as she calls herself, bears a striking resemblance to one of the grand duchesses. When she attired herself as a sister of mercy, the deception was complete.

A ceremonial reception was extended to Yelina at the hospital. She had just asked for money collected for the grand duchess' fund when Count Mordvinoff, the emperor's attache, discovered the imposture. The girl greeted the exposure with peals of laughter. She was returned to Petrograd and turned over to her father, but escaped.

GORGAS TO ACCEPT ROCKEFELLER OFFER

Washington, April 12.—Surgeon General Gorgas, of the army, probably will accept the Rockefeller foundation's offer that he become its general adviser as to public sanitation and control of epidemics. The foundation desires General Gorgas to take charge of the fight against typhus in Serbia, and it was learned tonight that officials here believe he will do so.

ATLANTA'S STRIDES FROM DAY TO DAY

Wilmer L. Moore will address the Atlanta Association of Building Owners and Managers at their monthly luncheon today at the Ansley hotel. Mr. Moore will talk on the subject of "Co-operation." A large gathering is expected to be on hand to greet Mr. Moore.

Gain in Building.

A large number of dwelling permits were issued Monday at the building inspector's office. Building registered a slight gain for the day, totaling $14,543.

Building Reports.

The slight gain in building operations in Atlanta for the first two months of 1915 that was registered at the close of February was lost during March and the official report of building published by The American Contractor, of New York, shows that Atlanta now has a deficit of 17 per cent for this year compared with the first three months of last year.

March's loss was 52 per cent.

Of the sixty-three cities reported on by The American Contractor gains are shown by twenty-nine cities, among which Akron scores 52 per cent to the good; Cincinnati, 57 per cent; Evansville, 275; Newark, 100; New Haven, 94; Scranton, 140; Syracuse, 262; Troy, 301; Utica, 151, and Wilkesbarre, 482 per cent.

For the first three months of the year the building permits of these sixty-nine cities totals $120,567,277, as compared with $125,782,552 for the corresponding period last year, a loss of only 4 per cent, which is considered remarkable in view of war times.

There was a general shrinkage as compared with March of last year, amounting to 15 per cent, but the total amount of building is increasing steadily month by month. Thus the January total building was, in round numbers, $34,000,000; February, $40,000,000, and for March, $53,000,000.

STORIES OF CRUELTIES CAUSED BULGAR RAID

Washington, April 12.—Semi-official mail advices to Stephan Paranetoff, Bulgarian minister here, declared today that the recent raid by irregular Bulgarian soldiers into Serbia probably was instigated by reports of cruelties inflicted on Bulgarians living in that part of Macedonia now under Serbian rule.

A report to Sofia from the governor of Strumnitsa, on the border between Bulgaria and Serbia, said that recently a "considerable number of refugees, Bulgarians and Turks, arrived from Radovish in Serbian Macedonia." The governor said the "population in the county of Radovish has been subjected to a regular massacre in the full sense of the word. All of the inhabitants, irrespective of nationality or sex, are being killed by the Serbians in a most cruel manner. If this continues the whole Macedonian regions will soon be devastated and depopulated."

Mr. Paranetoff asserted that there could be no truth in a published report from Nish via Paris that on the bodies of some of the Bulgarians in the recent raid were found Bulgarian postal cards containing descriptions of Strumnitsa, which the report added "were taken to indicate that the raid was planned on Bulgarian territory and an order given to attack Serbia."

INSURGENTS FIGHTING TO CONTROL ROCK ISLAND

Chicago, April 12.—Insurgent stockholders of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railroad tonight elected Nathan L. Amster, of Boston, one of their leaders, to the board of directors. Amster was one of four new directors chosen, the others being W. Emlen Roosevelt, William J. Matheson and Charles Hayden, all of New York. The three others had the backing of the Sheldon committee, which represented the majority stockholders and the faction in control of the board.

There are thirteen members altogether, four of whom will be succeeded next October. It was announced that Timothy S. Williams, of New York, is to have a place on the board, through the resignation of a director, unnamed.

The minority faction declared tonight after their meeting that the fight for control and reorganization had only begun.

Resolutions contemplating a general change in the government of the Rock Island were adopted vive voce. One provides that a committee be appointed to consider limiting the directors to five and to pay them salary for their service, with the understanding that they would devote their time to the company's interests. Another provides for the appointment of a committee of five stockholders to revise the by-laws.

GERMAN SEA CAPTAIN BREAKS HIS PAROLE

London, April 13.—(2:51 a. m.)—Captain Pfundeller, of the German converted cruiser Berlin, formerly a North German Lloyd liner, has violated his parole at Trondhjem, Norway, and has disappeared, according to Reuter's Christiania correspondent. The Berlin interned at Trondhjem last November.

Why Suffer With Impure Blood

An Effective Remedy That Can Be Relied Upon.

You can step into almost any drug store in the U. S. and get a bottle of S. S. S., the famous blood purifier. So there is no need to struggle or suffer with any blood disorder. It doesn't make any difference how severe is the outbreak, S. S. S. will overcome it. This famous remedy gets into your blood at once; it works with a will, it just simply annihilates disease germs, it drives them out, converts them into a harmless substance for quick elimination. Get a bottle today and you will quickly realize that S. S. S. is just as essential to blood health as are the meats, fats, grains and sugars of our daily food. And if yours is a stubborn case, write at once to the Medical Adviser, The Swift Specific Co., 112 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. He will put you right. This department has been of incalculable service to a host of men and women. It has enabled them to understand their true condition, to take care of themselves in the right way, to so use S. S. S. in conjunction with health helps as to obtain the desired results without mistakes. Do not accept any of the horde of substitutes so often displayed for those who are easily misled. S. S. S. has been the standard for half a century and is unquestionably the safest medicine you can use.

COCHRAN RESENTS ACTION OF WARDEN

Manager of Parks Making Investigation of Circumstances Surrounding Arrest at Lakewood.

J. O. Cochran, manager of the park department of the city, last night announced that he intended to hold a conference today with Charles Davis, state game warden in reference to the conduct of Deputy Warden E. D. Walker at Lakewood park recently.

This course on the part of the park manager was the result of an investigation of the circumstances attendant upon the arrest Saturday of Leon Withers, a well-known Atlanta man, who was charged with fishing at Lakewood and violating the game and fish law.

While at the park with L. G. Dewberry and Charles Mobley, Withers was arrested by Deputy Game Warden E. D. Walker, and haled before Justice of the Peace Jackson, of Lakewood Heights. He was released under a $200 bond and appeared Monday for a commitment hearing. The park manager appeared on the scene and after hearing the evidence had Justice Jackson to withhold his decision until State Game Warden Charles Davis could be conferred with.

"Both of the men with Withers testified on oath that Withers was not fishing when he was arrested by Walker, who had no warrant for his arrest," said Mr. Cochran. "I am convinced there was no reason for his arrest."

"We do not need any help from these deputy game wardens and they are invited to attend to their own affairs and keep out of the city parks.

"The police authorities are capable of enforcing city ordinances in the parks without their aid.

"Mr. Billett, lessee of Lakewood Park, informs me that he did not authorize nor desire the arrest of Mr. Withers, nor did he swear out any warrant."

According to testimony before Justice Jackson, Walker went into the park, which is leased by J. Billett and asked to see Withers' ticket. He had none, and his arrest followed. Later he gave bond with Billett as his bondsman, and was directed to appear Monday for trial. Mr. Cochran heard of the arrest and started an investigation in time to halt the proceedings until State Warden Davis could be called in.

"The park management and the city police department know how to conduct the parks in conformance with both the city and state laws and do not need Walker's assistance," said Mr. Cochran.

SLOW BRITISH COURTS ANNOY UNITED STATES

Washington, April 12.—The state department is preparing further representations to the British government requesting a speeding up of the machinery of the prize courts. So far not a single American ship or cargo has passed through the British prize courts, although many have been held for months.

One typical case is that of the steamship Antilla, tied up at Dundee, Scotland, since February 26, unable to get before a prize court. Her cargo consisted chiefly of cattle food consigned to Sweden. Both the Danish and British consulates in New York certified that everything in the Antilla's cargo was covered by the Swedish embargo, and that none of the goods could be exported from Sweden to Germany.

The state department felt that the British authorities should have ordered immediate release of the vessel and her cargo.

Nearly the same conditions are said to exist in the case of the American steamer Joseph W. Fordney, whose owners today appealed to the state department for her release. She was taken into Kirkwall, although, according to evidence before the department, she should not have been detained.

Notice was received today from the British government that in case contraband is found in the cargo of detained ships all of the expenses of loading and unloading and dockage will be charged to the shippers. In view of the wide range of the British contraband list few cargoes can hope to escape these charges.

The demurrage charges in the case of some of the American vessels is very heavy, that of the Antilla amounting to about $1,500 per day, and it is understood that the suggestion will be made that where a vessel and her cargo are finally decided to be "innocent" the British government should meet this expense.

ROADS PLAN TO MEET CANAL COMPETITION

Washington, April 12.—That transcontinental railroads intend to meet Panama canal competition by making rates that will divert freight to points just east of Pacific coast terminals for distribution was made clear today in hearings before Interstate Commerce Commissioner Clark on the adjustment of rates in so-called back-haul territory.

Charles Donnelly, representing transcontinental roads with terminals at North Pacific coast points, served notice on the commission of the carriers' purpose.

"If the construction of the Panama canal," he said, "has lowered rates to coast points to a degree that will make our Pacific coast terminals useless machinery so far as trans-continental traffic is concerned, we have the right to make rates that will send the freight to an intermediate point for distribution. If rates to Seattle prevent us from competing in the trans-continental trade we have a right to make a rate that will send that freight to Spokane for distribution in that competitive territory, and we propose to support that right before any court or commission."

Mr. Donnelly supported the railroads' proposal to cut the rates in back-haul territory by reducing the terminal rate which forms a part of the back-haul charge.

DANIELS TO CONFER WITH NAVY OFFICERS

Washington, April 12.—Before the bureau of naval operations authorized by congress is created, Secretary Daniels will hold a series of conferences with ranking officers in the service. The first of these, it became known tonight, will be with Rear Admiral Winslow, now attached to the naval war college at Newport, R. I. Other conferences will be held from time to time until the secretary has fully acquainted himself with the views of his officers concerning the organization of the proposed bureau.

Rear Admiral Winslow was expected to leave Newport for Washington tonight in response to an invitation from the secretary. Admiral Fletcher, commanding the Atlantic fleet at Hampton Roads, probably will be next summoned for conference.

Mr. Daniels said tonight he had not decided what changes would be made in the personnel of the department when the new bureau is inaugurated. He declared that no selections had been made and none was possible until the proposed conferences were concluded.

DAUGHTER OF EDISON SUBMARINE SPONSOR

Washington, April 12.—Mrs. Madeleine Edison Stone, daughter of Thomas A. Edison, the inventor, has accepted Secretary Daniels' invitation to act as sponsor for the submarine L-8, now building at the Portsmouth, N. H., navy yard, and which will be the first submarine equipped with the new Edison battery.

The launching will not take place for several months.

Pavlowa's Inimitable Art Charms Audience at Atlanta

After searching one's imagination for an apt figure which will carry vividly the impression of Anna Pavlowa, no simile comes but limps lamely and refuses to live and dance as Pavlowa. Pavlowa is like Pavlowa and nothing else.

She and her company closed the season at the Atlanta theater last night—a season which, except for a few bright spots, was perforce rather dull. But Pavlowa left a memory of this season over which Atlanta will still be dreaming in odd moments when the Atlanta opens next fall.

Atlanta had seen Pavlowa before and could not forget. She played only the one night here this year, but all Atlanta tried to go to see her. Standing room was at a premium.

Through three acts of bewildering visions of beauty, quaint fleeting reminiscences of yesterday and occasional grotesque surprises, Pavlowa dances with her inimitable art, as light as a bird, and with the abandon of a breeze. She was encored times without number. The audience seemed never to be satiate of her art and grace, and Mlle. Pavlowa's graciousness is not less than her grace.

After the curtain has gone down and an hour has lapsed, Pavlowa's dances, with Clustine and Volinine, stand out in the memory like cameos.

The Oriental languor and grace of Mlle. Svirskaia in Anitra's dance will long be remembered.

Mlle. Plaskovietzka—youth, beauty and abandon incarnate! Her pastorale with Vajinski lingers like a wonderful dream. It would not be at all surprising if some day, not so far distant, either, she should return to Atlanta at the head of her own company.

It is a lengthy performance, but so varied in its attractions that one is sorry when it is ended. Beginning with the grotesque mechanical dances of the dolls in the toyshop, of the first part, it moves blithely and rapidly on through scenes and dances and costumes unending in variety and charm, and with changes too numerous to record.

But when all is said and done one still sees above all Pavlowa, cameoed with Volinine in that last pose of the valse caprice and the ears are still haunted with the sobbing of Theodore Stier's violin.

Regret is with us only that Pavlowa was here but for an evening.

NED M'INTOSH.

Keith Vaudeville.

(At the Forsyth.)

Although advance notices and the flamboyant billboards submerge him at least two fathoms beneath the headliner, Bert Fitzgibbon, billed as vaudeville's daffiest daffydil, proved a theatrical "stampede" at the Forsyth theater Monday night.

Murphey and Nichols and Rosie Lloyd, two other star acts on the bill, are chronicled ahead of Fitzgibbon in the advance notices and advertising, but it was the "Nut" who walked away with greatest honors and found a difficult job escaping a clamorous audience.

There is no description of Bert Fitzgibbon except to say that he is an unadulterated "nut" of the rarest variety, Barbanked, scientifically cultured and served in most entertaining fashion. You have to see him to understand. You will do well to see him. You will likewise forget an abundance of troubles and worries.

The Murphey-Nichols set shared laurels with Fitzgibbon. Their offering is "From Zaza to Uncle Tom's Cabin," a burlesque on a barnstorming theatrical troupe, which has an abundance of witty lines, as well as much buffoonery. It served a well-designed purpose of keeping its audience in a prolonged gale of laughter. W. H. Murphey and Blanche Nichols, supported by a company of two, were at their best.

For those who like the English brand of song and humor, Rosie Lloyd will be a treat. She evidently resorted to her native shores for her repertoire of songs, which are pronouncedly English and are delivered in a pronouncedly English fashion. Her act consists entirely of singing and dancing.

Some enterprising monologist should take Si and Mary Stebbins into tow and rejuvenate their act with a quantity of character chatter. They have a good act as it is—and it is another you have to see to appreciate—but their character ability is so rich that they are overlooking a genuine opportunity in neglecting character studies by devoting their twelve minutes to a series of baffling and amusing card tricks. The tricks are good enough, but the character material in the Stebbins team makes the vaudeville expert weep to see it going to waste.

There are many clever lines and some cleverer stunts in "The Way to a Man's Heart," a sketch oddity presented by Florence Lorraine and Edgar Dudley. The fiancee, who jilted her bachelor sweetheart because he refused to get rid of his mustache, comes to his bachelor quarters in the guise of a Swede cook to capture his heart with the skillet and gas range. Miss Lorraine is exceptionally good.

The program is opened by Maddox, the wire walker, offering a number of new and difficult wire and elevation stunts. It is closed with Jewel's Manikins, mechanical figures which are operated by a mannikin manipulator of unusual skill, who makes his figures mimic some of the stage's most illustrious stars.

AGREEMENT RATIFIED TO SETTLE THE STRIKE

Syracuse, N. Y., April 12.—An agreement settling the strike of the Amalgamated association of street and electric railway employees against the Empire United Railways was ratified late today in the presence of James M. Lynch, state commissioner of labor. The agreement, a compromise, contains a provision that if any dispute arise over the carrying out of any provisions, it shall be presented to an arbitration board.

W. D. Mahon, president of the Amalgamated association, intimated today that differences between the Amalgamated and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers would be settled after the national conventions of the two organizations this year.

Traffic was normal tonight.

MONCRIEF WILL SEEK AID FOR BESSIE TIFT

Barnesville, Ga., April 12.—(Special.) Dr. A. J. Moncrief was granted a leave of absence by the members of the First Baptist church Sunday for May, June and July in order that he might devote the time to the effort to raise the funds for relieving Bessie Tift college at Forsyth of its financial embarrassment.

Dr. Moncrief is chairman of the committee of nine appointed by the State Baptist convention, and it is in that capacity that he will undertake the task, the committee having unanimously requested him to do so. An appeal will be made to the Baptists of Georgia to contribute the funds for liquidating the indebtedness of the college, and Dr. Moncrief and his committee are hopeful of accomplishing the task during the next three months.

GERMANY RETALIATES ON BRITISH PRISONERS

London, April 13.—(1:32 a. m.)—A Reuter dispatch from Amsterdam says:

"The German government has decided to make reprisals against British officer prisoners for treatment that is being accorded German submarine prisoners in England. For each prisoner of a submarine crew and for the duration of his harsh treatment, Germany has resolved to treat likewise a British officer without distinction of person.

"Accordingly, today (Monday) thirty-nine British officers were imprisoned in the military detention barracks."

PTOMAINE POISONING ATTACKS MARSHALL

Globe, Ariz., April 12.—A slight illness, it was announced today, will prevent Vice President Marshall participating in the celebration set for April 15 to mark the first filling of the great Roosevelt irrigation reservoir in the Superstition mountains.

Mr. Marshall is at the home of his father-in-law, W. E. Kimsey, near Phoenix. His indisposition resulted from a mild attack of ptomaine poisoning.

INSURANCE ON LIVES OF CANADIAN SOLDIERS

Hartford, Conn., April 12.—Through the city of Toronto life insurance has just been purchased here for 1,150 soldiers of the second Canadian expeditionary force. The amount for each man is $1,000. For three years the city of Toronto will pay the aggregate premium of $45,000. After that the men will be expected to pay the premiums themselves.

Same Sturdy Construction at the same Before-the-War Prices

It's true that the great foreign war has brought a sharp increase in the cost of leather, but through fortunate purchases—made several months ago—the Snow shoe still maintains, at popular prices, that staunch construction and quality which has given it such an enviable reputation for forty years.

The "Snow" Wearmore Shoes for Men

You should see the Snow Arch-Supporting Insole, the Snow Cushion Insole, and the Snow "Non-Wear" Sole. The "Wearmore" Cotton Fabric Sole outwears three or four ordinary leather soles, and is obtainable in Snow shoes exclusively at $4.00 or over.

We are pleased to be able to offer you this splendid line of men's shoes at before-the-war prices:

$3.00 to $5.00

Snow boys' shoes at $2.50 to $3.00 look just like dad's—and they wear, too.

Snow cloth and buckskin top novelties are especially popular at this time.

If there are better shoes made for men and boys at these prices we have yet to see them—but don't take our word for it; drop in and examine the line yourself.
